Here's How Hudson's Bay New Block Will Look

Hudson's Bay Plans Spending Million Dollars On New Store

Spotlight Turns On Edmonton As Newest Frontier

Work Starts Early in Spring—Building Will Embody Modern Science and Art in Construction and Design

Signalizing faith in Edmonton and emphasizing the city's future as the gateway to new northern development, the Hudson's Bay Company will build a new department store here at an estimated cost of $1,000,000, it was announced by the company's Canadian committee today. Construction will start early in the spring.

The new store, which will occupy the site of the present building, will be completely modern in design and will incorporate the results of the most recent research into construction materials. It will be of reinforced concrete construction.

The exterior treatment will consist of a black granite base, which material will be carried up to flank all main entrances. The upper stories will be of a hard, smooth-faced, mocha colored brick, with accents of Tyndall limestone as panels over each entrance and at the corners. Motives of historical interest will be carved over each entrance to do with the company's development of the West.

The entire structure will be fireproof and equipped with an automatic sprinkler system.

MODERN PLANNING

The building, when completed, will occupy the full city block facing on Jasper avenue on the site of the present store. It will have two stories and basement, with provision for additional stories, totalling more than four acres of selling and storage space, if it is

JAPS GLOSS OVER SINKING BRITISH SHIP

Note Sees Panay Accord Parallel For Ladybird Incident

TOKYO, Dec. 28—Japan's reply to the British protest over the shelling of the gunboat Ladybird near Wuhu, Dec. 11 was handed today to Sir Robert Craigie, Brit'sh ambassador.

The text of the note was approved by the cabinet and then submitted to Emperor Hirohito by CANTON, China, Dec. 28— Tension here caused by the reported imminent Japanese invasion of Kwantung province was agitated tonight by reports from Hong Kong that 33 Japanese warships had been sighted off Macao, Portuguese dependency, west of the crown colony. There was no confirmation of the reports in official Chinese circles.

foreign minister Koki Hirota who went to the palace in place of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, the premier.

Hirota's report to the emperor on the attack, which occurred on the Yangtze river on the same day the United States gunboat Panay was sunk to the bottom by Japanese bombs, included the government's measures for amicable settlement with Great Britain.

While final disposition of the Ladybird incident was pending Tokyo newspapers hailed settlement of the Panay as a tribute to the coolness and sincerity" of the Japanese and U.S. governments and peoples.

Yomiuri saw the Panay settlement as an "example" for Britain.

"Japan guarantees rights and interests of third powers in China but this does not include impure political influence," Yomuri said. "When the boundary is recognized clearly by the British government not only will settlement of the Ladybird incident be made easier but other illusions entertained by that government will be wiped out."

Francoeur Given Biggest Majority In County Annals

Traditional Grit Trend of Lotbiniere House of Commons Seat is Unbroken as Provincial Ex-Minister Returned

STE. CROIX, Que., Dec. 28.—Piling up of the greatest majority in the riding's history, Joseph N. Francoeur won his way to Lotbiniere County's House of Commons seat Monday and kept unbroken the traditionally Liberal trend of its federal elections.

In his first venture into Dominion politics, the former Quebec cabinet minister and speaker administered a crushing defeat to Paul Bouchard, young publisher of a Quebec city weekly who ran as an Independent Nationalist. The two were the only aspirants to the seat left empty by the death of J. A. Verville, veteran Liberal.

TOPS PREVIOUS HIGH

The ballot count late last night, with only five of the 107 polls to be heard from, gave Francoeur an unofficial majority of 4,912. Individual totals were not available beyond the 36th poll, where Francoeur had 5,076 and the Independent Nationalist 2,364. The tabulation indicated the successful Liberal candidate would top the previous high majority for the constituency by well over 500 votes.

Up to Monday, the record margin for a Lotbiniere election had been the 4,389 rolled up by Verville in the 1935 general election. The total vote that year was 15,122, out of about 22,000 eligible electors in the county.

Monday's was the 21st federal contest in Lotbiniere, and the 21st time this rural riding on the south shore of the St. Lawrence river had elected a Liberal. Eighteen of the contests were in general elections and three, including Monday's in by-elections

THUGS ESCAPE WITH SAFE IN STOLEN AUTO

Heavy Vault Containing About $300 Carried Away In Daring Raid

Thugs broke into the Montrose Service Station at the corner of 101 street and 106 avenue some time Monday night, cut a 300-pound safe, which contains about $300, from its concrete base and escaped with the safe in a stolen car, police reported Tuesday. The car was taken from the service station.

At press time no trace of the safe or of the stolen car had been discovered. The thugs left two heavy iron bars and a hack-saw, which they had used to break the safe from its moorings. They also stole a car bittery and two flashlights.

FRONT DOOR OPEN

At 5:35 a.m. Constable Harry Nelson, patrolling the district, discovered that the front door of the station was open. When he went in he found that the safe was gone. He immediately notified police headquarters who called Sid Buckland, manager of the station.

Chief of Detectives Robert Sutherland detailed Detectives Bert Kingzett and Murdo Munro to the investigation. They found that the premises had been entered by stripping the lock with a thin strip, probably of celluloid.

SAFE IN CONCRETE

The safe, 16 inches square by 20 inches high, was set on a concrete base and anchored to the block by four bolts, set in concrete. The thugs broke the concrete away and then used the hack-saw to cut through the heavy bolts. Then they loaded the safe into the stolen car and drove away. Police stated that the thugs had come to the premises in one car and driven away in their own and the stolen car. The stolen machine is owned by A. P. Smart.

The investigating officers stated that they believed that it was the work of amateur safecrackers. "Because it was far more trouble to take that safe away than it would have been to open it on the spot," they declared.

Search for the stolen car and the missing safe was continuing Tuesday.

The stolen car was recovered by detectives Tuesday morning. It was found parked on 100 avenue, between 103 and 104 streets. The detectives said there were no clues left which would disclose the identity of the thugs.

PRINCE BOOED BY RED GROUP IN SOUTH CITY

"Bolsheviks Do Not Like Me and I Do Not Like Them," Danylo Says

CALGARY, Dec. 28.—Cheered by hundreds of Ukrainians, Prince Danylo Skoropadsky, whose father, he claims, for 11 months in 1918, was King of the Ukraine, arrived in Calgary from Edmonton Monday.

But, he was also greeted by angry shouts from a crowd of 30 men who claimed to be members of the Communist party.

It was the first time he had been booed in Canada, the Prince said, though protest meetings had been organized in Winnipeg.

PEOPLE WHISTLE

"In Europe," he said, "people whistle when they are not satisfied. Here it is just the opposite, they shout."

"I was glad to hear the Bolsheviks" he added. "They made it possible for me to say that they do not like me, and I do not like them."

Leader of the royalist movement which seeks independence for the Ukraine, now under Russian Soviet rule, Prince Skoropadsky in an interview said:

"Our plans for restoring the monarchy are still in the preparatory state. First we must rouse a national feeling among our people. The Hetman or Royalist movement is only one of several among our Ukrainian organizations."

GREAT MOVEMENT

Restoration of the monarchy will come, he declared.

"There is a great national Ukrainian movement everywhere," he added.

Tuesday evening the prince will be the guest of honor at a dinner tendered by the Ukrainian National Club of Calgary. He will visit Banff Wednesday and leave for Winnipeg Thursday where he will spend the New Year's Christmas, which falls on January 7.

Canada's Consent Will Be Necessary For Preferential Items

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The British government has completed the preliminary stage in negotiations for an Anglo-American trade agreement. This concerns the gathering of data in regard to British industries likely to be affected.

Necessary inquiries among both importers and exporters made up the information compiled. The way is thus cleared to opening the negotiations themselves.

The British delegation sails for the United States early in January. It will be under the general direction of Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador at Washington.

Any legislation to give effect to the agreement will need the approval of the British parliament. Canada's consent will also be necessary, should the agreement propose to modify the preferences which Canada now enjoys in the British market under the Anglo-Canadian agreement.

Small Reward Brought Luck To Poskrobek

WARSAW, Dec. 28.—Honesty and a miserly reward put Joseph Poskrobek into the taxicab business and assured his son of a good education.

Poskrobek found a wallet containing $4,500 which some foreign passengers had lost in the cab he was driving. He returned the money intact after great difficulty in finding the owners. His honesty was rewarded with a compensation, but the Warsaw press expressed indignation over its smallness.

Prof. Mosciki, president of the Republic, read the item, summoned the taxicab driver to his palace and handed him a lump sum to bring up his son. An assembly company for American diplomats gave him a new automobile. Now Poskrobek drives his own taxi.

Japan Forces Roll Toward Confucius' Birthplace

MACHINE NEAR HOLY LAND OF ANCIENT CHINA

Nippon Expected To Treat Shrines Of Sage With Respect

By The Associated Press

The Japanese war machine rolling southward through Shantung province is approaching the "Holy Land of China."

Chufu, birthplace of Confucius, China's great sage, lies 90 miles south of Tsinan, the provincial capital, which the Japanese say they have captured. Midway between the two is Tai Shan, the sacred mountain of China, crowned by some of the most venerated temples in the land.

Central Shantung is studded with shrines and monuments at which Chinese have worshipped for more than 2,000 years.

PILGRIMS VISIT

Confucius, or Kung Fu-Tze, was born at Chufu in 550 B.C. died there in 478 B.C. and was buried there in a tumulus still visited by thousands of devout pilgrims. There was built the chief temple devoted to his worship, still a magnificent edifice of marble pillars and lacquered woods, rebuilt and refurbished by successive imperial dynasties.

Descendants of Confucius also live in Chu u, the head of the house being the 75th Duke of Kung, a wastin in his teens.

Chufu is a quiet, typical North China market town, where life goes on much as it did when Confucius lived. It is separated by 10 miles of dusty plain from the railway.

NO PRETENSIONS

Confucius himself made no pretensions to divinity and his cult is a code of ethics rather than a religion, although Confucianism generally is accounted one of China's three religions, the others being Taoism and Buddhism. Temples to Confucius are found throughout China and even in Japan. His famous books, "The Book of History" "The Book of Rites", "The Spring and Autumn Annals", have formed the basis of conduct for 75 generations of Chinese.

The nationalist revolution of 1928-28, which founded the Nanking regime which the Japanese have expelled from that capital, was in large measure a revolt against old ways, and the cult of Confucius fell into disfavor with the new generation. Confucian temples in some provinces were turned into public libraries or even barracks, and the sage-old rites proscribed by the sage fell into disuse.

REPELLED CONSERVATIVES

This repelled millions of Conservative Chinese in North China and what was then Manchuria, and the Japanese conquerors have made much of this fact. Hoping to win the support of the Conservatives—and most northern Chinese are that at heart—they have reinstated the sage's temples throughout Manchukuo and the north and restored at Hsinking, the Manchukuo capital, the ancient Peiping rites reverencing the sage. The Japanese have even built a splendid new Confucian temple in Tokyo, their capital, where Confucius has thousands of followers.

For this reason the Japanese forces are likely to treat the sage's birthplace with great respect.

Biggest Boner In History

Berlin has been "boning up" on "Alley Oop," The Bulletin's hilarious comic of Stone Age antics, it seems. To readers, this picture may look like the skeleton of one of Oop's pet—perhaps of old Dinny himself; but the Berlin Natural History Museum, very solemnly scientific, announces it as the fossil remains of the largest creature known to have roamed the earth—a brachyosaurus, 50 feet long, 35 feet high, with 15 feet of potential sore throat.

FEDERAL DEBUT

Like Francoeur, the 30-year-old Bouchard was making his debut to federal politics. He ran on a platform of "No war, no armaments for Canada and greater autonomy for Quebec." During the hard-fought campaign through the snow-covered county, he continually condemned the dominion's armaments expenditures, declaring they presaged Canada's entry into foreign war.

His Liberal opponent denied the accusation. Francoeur claimed any expenditures on arms were necessary for Canada's defence.

The Independent Nationalist, Francoeur claimed, had gathered his ideas "during his travels abroad" and he accused Bouchard of "spreading false and subversive doctrine in an attempt to damage the (Canadian) system of government . . ."

Bouchard asserted Quebec needed greater autonomy so "the rights of Quebecers could be safeguarded." To this, Francoeur retorted the young editor was "showing Quebec in a bad light to the rest of the country."

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—Election last night of J. N. Francoeur, Liberal, to the Lotbiniere House of Commons seat, leaves the party standing in the chamber:

Liberals 178. Conservatives 39, Social Credit 17, C.C.F. seven, Independent one, Reconstruction one, U.F.O. one, vacant one; total 245.

White Man's Plane Hums Disturbance To Native Red Man

WINNIPEG, Dec. 28.—If those who write hunting laws make new year's resolutions, Philip H. Godsell, fellow of the Royal Geographical Society and author, hopes they remember the forgotten red man whose hunting grounds are slowly being robbed by the white brother with his ingenious ways of earning a dollar.

The tall, broad-shouldered wanderer of Canada's frozen frontier who came to the Dominion from England 30 years ago because he wanted a war bonnet and peace-pipe, today scanned records of northern experience and found one jarring note in songs he could sing of those who live in the land of the snows. And the white man's airplane hummed the most disturbing tune.

Godsell said faith has not been kept by those who signed the treaty with the Indian and swore hunting and fishing would be for as long "as the waters ran and the sun shone."

PUSHED ASIDE

Through numerous hunting licenses given to white trappers the Indian is steadily being pushed into low morale, poor health and misery existence, declared Godsell, who has trekked from Labrador to Alaska and learned to speak six native dialects.

"I know of Indian families 30 years ago who took pride in their ability to derive a living from forests and the stream and be as independent of white man," Godsell said. "Today, I've seen those same families brought to utter destitution by inroads of white trappers and depletion of areas in which they hunted."

Godsell explained the 50,000 Indian men, women and children up north had 15,000 bread-winners whose primitive mode of hunting could not match the white man's mechanical bird nor his other tricks of obtaining a living from animals of northern woods and the fish-lined streams. One of these "dishonest" tricks in trade was use of poison.

In season; 1935-36, he said, 22,681 hunting and trapping licenses were issued to white trappers in Quebec, Ontario, western provinces and the North West Territories.

WHITES USED POISON

"Many of these white men used poison to destroy large quantities of animals," Godsell said. "Besides this devilish practice, the white man and his plane zoom around north to locate natural nurseries or sanctuaries where animals breed and overflow to populate the Indian hunting grounds. From this very source they are able to bolster the Indian's livelihood."

This friend of the red man had suggestions for remedying the ills of the redskin.

"Hunting and trapping privileges should be restricted in all northern Canada to the Indian and Eskimo population. The white trapper must be eliminated if justice is to be done the northern Indians and unless they are to become entirely dependent on the taxpayer."

The former Hudson's Bay Company fur-trader sketched a picture of "Indians and their families dejected, broken-down, spiritless specimens of depravity, totally at a loss to know how to meet economic disaster with which they are faced."

AGED ZANDER GETS PLENTY OF YULE CARDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—Christmas loneliness led 85-year-old Hugo Zander into trouble with the law—but it had its compensation Monday.

Zander was taken into custody Dec. 21 on suspicion of removing Christmas cards from a hotel mail box. He was released when he explained "I didn't even open them—I just wanted to show people that I was having a Christmas, too, I have no friends or relatives."

News wires carried the story. Monday, Zander received cards, nearly a score, from New Jersey, Kentucky, Illinois and Texas.

BRITAIN MARKS 'DANGER SPOTS' IN AIR ATTACK

Rail Lines and Subway System Prepared For Emergencies

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Britain is frantically completing plans for defense against eventual air raids and gas attacks.

The latest link in this defense line is the organization of railroad transport and civilian evacuation of "danger spots."

In any war, railroads are prize targets. Realizing this, the London, Midland and Scottish, one of Britain's four great railroad systems, has begun training 23,000 of its staff of 230,000 employees.

Already 1,000 of the railroad's workers have qualified as first-class instructors at the civilian antigas school at Falfield, Gloucestershire, which was established about a year ago.

As announced by railroad officials, these instructors will tour the country in a specially equipped train recently displayed in London.

CAR CARRIES GAS MASKS

Called the "Air Raids Precaution Mobile Instructional Unit," it consists of two reconstructed sleeping cars painted yellow. One car is fitted as a lecture theatre capable of seating 30 men, and carries gas masks, protective clothing and fire-fighting equipment.

The other car has been divided into three compartments. At one end is an undressing-room where contaminated clothes may be removed and cleaned. In the middle of the car a large bathroom is equipped with showers, and at the other end is a dressing-room where men can put on clean clothes.

Jackass

most of it owing to the working-time lost by the 1,000 traveling instructors and the 23,000 students.

Nevertheless many details cannot be settled until an attack actually occurs.

IMPORTANT QUESTION UNSETTLED

One of these is to decide whether trains should continue running while a raid is in progress. At the beginning of the World War, trains stopped during a raid, but in later days they continued their journeys under the belief that a moving object is more difficult to hit.

Apparently the London, Midland & Scottish trains will not stop during air raids, because among the equipment eventually to be supplied to each station will be a yellow signboard lettered in black, "Air Raid in Progress." This is to be set up on station platforms to warn train engineers who may not be able to hear the noise of bombs because trains are so noisy.

Another problem as yet unsolved is that of stations which have high towers or glass roofs. Both of these glistening landmarks invite attack.

SAFETY PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

But gripping of one station will not prevent the civilian evacuation of even the heaviest overcrowded section of London's East End.

According to Wing-Commander Eric J. Hodsoll, head of the air raid precautions department of the Home Office, refugees will be housed in public buildings more than 100 miles from their homes.

They will be guests of local authorities in small towns surrounding metropolitan London. These local authorities have agreed to co-operate fully.

SUBWAY STATIONS ENLARGED

Within London itself, air raid precautions are being made in conjunction with normal building activities. Regularly underground and subway stations are being enlarged and improved—theoretically to cope with increased congestion during rush hours, but the builders appear constantly to keep in mind the experiences of the last war when the underground proved to be the safest of all refuges.

Leicester Square is one of the many stations which recently has been "improved." It is reported that within a few years one bomb-proof, gas-proof platform will stretch from Leicester Square to its adjoining station, Piccadilly Circus. Today Piccadilly Circus is considered one of the largest underground stations in the world. When the reported amalgamation of the two stations is completed, it should be able to insure the absolute safety of several thousands of Londoners against any possible air attack.

Births Decline Last Half Year

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—Rate of natural increase in Canada's population fell 1.3 per 1,000 in the yearly comparison of the first half of 1937, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported. Births declined 0.7 per thousand, deaths increased 0.6. The marriage rate rose 0.4.

Deaths from disease showed a sharp increase as the toll of measles rose more than 100 per cent and that of influenza almost 100 per cent. Automobile fatalities increased by 156, a 26-per-cent rise. Suicides and homicides declined by small amounts.

Illegitimate births declined and still births were fewer.

There can be no such thing as sound outside the listener's ear. There are, however, sound waves capable of producing the sensation known as sound upon the auditory nerves.

ELECTION SHOWS NATIONAL SPIRIT PREMIER STATES

OTTAWA, Dec. 28—Electors of Lotbiniere had refused to sanction "three new and unnatural alliances which threaten the unity of Canada," Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared last night.

"They have voted as Canadians placing the national interest before all else," he said, commenting on the Liberal victory in the Lotbiniere by-election.

Mr. Mackenzie King issued the following statement: The election of Hon. J. N. Francoeur in yesterday's contest following so closely upon the recent Liberal victory in Victoria, is further evidence of nation-wide approval of the policies of the federal Liberal administration. The efforts of the Independent-Nationalist candidate and his supporters, in Lotbiniere, to inject into the campaign false issues respecting defence and provincial autonomy, have given a special significance to the outcome of the election.

As in Victoria, the electors of Lotbiniere have not been misled by appeals to prejudice or to sectional interest. They have voted as Canadians placing the national interest before all else. They have given no countenance to new and unnatural alliances which threaten the unity of Canada.

Today's splendid result in the province of Quebec is a source of encouragement as well as gratification to my colleagues and myself in our efforts to approach all problems—domestic and external alike—in the light of the interests and needs of Canada as a whole.

Seven-tenths, or 257,000,000 acres, of the total farm lands of the United States are used to produce forage crops.

No Defence Gets Setback In Quebec

By THOS. WATLING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Dec. 28—The Nationalist "no-defence" advocates of Quebec have received a severe setback in the defeat of Paul Bouchard by Hon. J. N. Francoeur, in the federal by-election of Lotbiniere.

Bouchard attempted to stir up Quebec prejudice against the defence policies of the present government, which policies have also received the qualified support of the Conservatives. Bouchard cried, "No war, no armaments and greater autonomy for Quebec," but he failed to fool the people of Lotbiniere, whose locale borders the St. Lawrence just above Quebec and who would come under the bombs of invading aircraft in case of hostilities that there be no adequate Canadian defence.

The C.C.F. received a reprimand in Victoria by its opposition in the recent by-election to common-sense defence measures for Canada and now Quebec has echoed Victoria's mandate. The net result will be the strengthening of the hands of the minister of national defence when he brings down his estimates at the forthcoming session of the Dominion parliament.

The Lotbiniere result is more of a triumph for Hon. Ernest Lapointe than even the candidate, for Mr. Francoeur had no previous experience of federal politics and the minister of justice carried the federal banner. Mr. Lapointe made his position clear; no conscription but common-sense measures for the adequate defence of the Dominion. The electors of Lotbiniere replied definitely with the biggest majority ever given any candidate there. As Mr. Lapointe put it, "It is again the sane voice of Quebec."

Building Of Hudson's Bay Store Starts In Spring

DEVELOPMENT OF EDMONTON IS RECOGNIZED

Striking Beauty Of Design Is Seen In Plans For Business Block

planned to incorporate for customer convenience, a most modern planning and layout of departments.

Food-selling departments with the newest sanitary and efficient refrigerating equipment, and a coffee shop to seat 135 people, will be installed in the basement. The design of the building will enable an arrangement of merchandise most convenient for customers.

The second floor will have ready-to-wear fashion merchandise and beauty parlor and associated departments, and the house furnishing section. On the roof, penthouses will accommodate staff rest rooms and lunch room for men and women, work rooms and fur storage. The building will be heated with a complete air conditioning system capable of cooling the store during the summer months.

START IN SPRING

The construction on the new store will start this spring and the work will proceed on schedule to allow for the systematic moving of departments to enable the retail operation to be carried on throughout the moving with the least inconvenience to customers. It is hoped that the first unit will be opened for business before the end of the summer of 1938.

The new Edmonton store will be the fifth establishment there since Fort Edmonton was built by William Tomison of the Hudson's Bay Company in 1794. For more than seventy years Fort Edmonton was the great prairie depot of the old fur trade empire.

In 1879 the first settlement other than fur traders' was beginning to take form outside the wide palisade walls of the fort, where the company carried on its trading with the settlers. In 1883 there were forty children in the Edmonton school.

BUILT FIRST STORE

It was 1880 when the company built its first store outside the fort to supply general merchandise to the growing town and it was a year later before the railroad reached the city. A year after the incorporation of the city in 1904, the company built the store which it has occupied until the present time, with certain additions.

The importance of Edmonton today is once more associated with the frontiers. A truly northern city, Edmonton is the centre of a rich farming community and at the same time a supply centre for the mining and fur trading of the Mackenzie river basin and the Western Arctic.

The architects will be Messrs. Moody and Moore, Winnipeg.

'The Kid' Takes a Bride

And so the ragged little urchin grew up to be a millionaire and married the beautiful movie actress. That's the real life story of Jackie Coogan, who began a climb to fame and fortune by playing "kid" parts with Charlie Chaplin, and who is shown above just a moment after Betty Grable, ingenue of modern films, became his bride. Betty dabs at a tear as the couple emerges from St. Brendan's Catholic church in Los Angeles.

Golden Voice Wins Copper Surprise Bid for Stardom

The voice was his own. The motorcycle was the state's. The ticket was the gift of world-known musical stars.

The "singing cop," a patrolman on the Oakland-San Francisco Bay bridge, entrained for Italy, Germany and the great teachers of music.

With him on his trip to Europe will be Gaetano Meorola, director of the San Francisco Opera Company, who says Stinson's tenor "will be the golden voice of the present age." The singer's wife and 16-year-old stepson will accompany them.

Stinson—34, five-feet-nine, and 200 pounds—grew up in an orphan's home in St. Louis. Meorola listened to him three years ago, and since his guided him to a stage of perfection which has brought the backing of such opera stars as Vlovanni Martinelli, Italian tenor; Gina Cigna, and Kirsten Flagstad, sopranos.

FINE TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE CHIEF JUSTICE

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the House of Commons opposition, last night paid this tribute to Sir Douglas Hazen, New Brunswick's chief justice, who died Monday:

Sir Douglas

The late Sir Douglas Hazen had a long and distinguished career. His family has rendered public service to the province of New Brunswick from the date of its creation. He was only 31 when he was elected to represent Saint John in the House of Commons.

Subsequently as Premier of New Brunswick, minister in charge of an important department during the Great War, and latterly as chief justice of his native province, he discharged the onerous duties of public office with conspicuous ability, and commanded the respect and esteem of all shades of political opinion.

He was a friendly man who worthily maintained the fine traditions of British public life.

YEARLING DOE CUTS NOSE ON WINDOW PANE

GUELPH, Ont., Dec. 28—A yearling doe galloped down the main street here Monday, turned into a lane and crashed a window at the rear of a hotel. She was cut about the nose and dazed and was easily captured. Game Warden Gordon Matthews set her free later.

PRISONER USES MEDICAL CARE TO MAKE BREAK

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Dec. 28—Wilfred Woods, 33-year-old prisoner, made a daring escape Monday as he was being returned from the General and Marine hospital to Grey county jail where he has served about three weeks of a six months definite and three months indefinite sentence for theft.

Woods entered hospital Friday for treatment and Monday the jail surgeon, Dr. Richard Howey, drove to the hospital to return Woods to jail. The two walked out the rear door of the hospital and the doctor got into his car. He turned to look for Woods but the latter had disappeared.

RADIO PROGRAM WILL PORTRAY CANADA'S RACES

MONTREAL, Dec. 28—Produced by J. Murray Gibbon, general publicity agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, for the network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, a series of ten Sunday broadcasts commencing January 2, will be heard across the Dominion and, under the name of "Canadian Mosaic," will illustrate the songs and music of the many races settled in Canada.

Interpretations will be by Frances James, one of Canada's leading sopranos, while the Toronto Conservatory string quartette, under the leadership of Elie Spivsk, will contribute instrumental music by the outstanding composers of the races in question.

Three races will include French, Scot, English, Irish, Welsh, Scandinavian, German, Ukrainian, Polish, Czechoslovak, Finnish, etc., and the idea of this broadcast series is to create a better understanding of the contribution made to Canadian culture by the various racial groups in Canada.

It may be considered as an interesting sequence of the folk song festivals organized at various points in Canada some years ago by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The time for the broadcast will be from 7.30 to 8 p.m. E.S.T. 8.30 to 9 p.m. E.S.T., 6.30 to 7 p.m. C.S.T., 5.30 to 6 p.m. Mountain Time, and 4.30 to 5 p.m. P.S.T.

REBELS HOLD OUT AGAINST HEAVY DRIVE

Bishop Of Teruel Said Among Besieged Insurgents In Seminary

WITH GOVERNMENT FORCES IN TERUEL, Spain, Dec. 28—Government forces extended their lines west of Teruel toward Albarracin, Beana and Valdecuenca Monday as insurgents barricaded in a handful of buildings inside the provincial capital still fought out against pounding guns and approaching sk.rvation.

It was almost certainly established that the Bishop of Teruel is among those besieged in the shell-battered seminary, which at one time today burst into flames from incendiary shells. The fire was put out.

Dynamiteros advanced from house to house, mopping up Insurgent stragglers with hand grenades.

Insurgents Are Holding Out

HENDAYE, Dec. 28—Beleaguered Spanish Insurgent troops at Teruel radioed the Insurgent high command last night that they had sufficient munitions and food to continue defence of their flaming strongholds.

The Insurgent remnants, barricaded six days in the massive Teruel seminary and the Bank of Spain, both on fire, fought to hold off a ring of government attackers until relief forces under General Miguel Aranda could break through to them.

General Aranda's counter-offensive was reported by Insurgent dispatches to have advanced to within 12 miles of the northwestern section of Teruel, 135 miles east of Madrid.

Franco Announces Prisoners Freed

SALAMANCA, Dec. 28—Two hundred Insurgent prisoners condemned to death have been granted "Christmas pardons" by General Franco, the Insurgent radio station here announced last night.

FIRE FIGHTERS BATTLE BLAZE ON BOXING DAY

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Great Britain's three-day rest from work wound up last night with crowds making the most of their final hours of freedom. Almost everyone except London's firefighters enjoyed the Boxing Day holiday. The firemen fought for hours a serious blaze on Oxford street.

The fire force used for the first time equipment designed for emergency air raid fire fighting to handle the Oxford street blaze.

Low water pressure forced firemen to erect a huge canvas tank into which five motor pumps poured thousands of gallons of water while 100-foot high towers sucked the water out to shoot it with terrific force into a blazing four-storey building housing "His Master's Voice" radio and gramaphone company.

The fire apparently smouldered during the week-end in merchandise valued at £40,000 ($200,000), then burst out.

Maurice Evans Sorry He Can't Play In Ottawa

TORONTO, Dec. 28. — Maurice Evans, the stage star who is in Toronto with his Richard II, is disappointed that he will not be able to play in Ottawa. He said Monday he thinks it "hardly right" for an English actor to come to Canada and not play in the capital.

Lack of a theatre there prevents Evans from staging his New York success in Ottawa. He will play in Hamilton and London and then Winnipeg and Vancouver.

He would take Calgary in his stride on the way but it is as badly off as Ottawa for a theatre and will have to be skipped.

Ocean Vessel Loses Rudder Off Cape Race

ST. JOHN'S, Ffld., Dec. 28—The steamship Blue Peter was reported here last night to have lost her rudder off Cape Race. The vessel, on her way to England, was apparently not in danger. No further details were immediately available.

The Blue Peter, a refrigerator ship engaged in Newfoundland waters in collecting salmon and blueberries, was on her way from here to be taken by English purchasers. The 26,663-ton vessel was formerly the Highland Lair, owned by Job Brothers and Company, Ltd.

South African Vet Found Dead

CALGARY, Dec. 28.—Veteran of the South African war, William F. Conway, 83, was found dead on the floor of his room in a boarding house on Monday. A friend discovered the body.

He may have been a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning. All windows of his room were tightly closed and burners of a gas stove heater burning.

"There is a suspicion that death may have been caused by carbon monoxide poisoning," said Dr. W. H. Hill, coroner, "however, a man of that age may have had a sudden heart attack."

As Mrs. Hubbard, the former Muriel McCormick and a granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, is a widow, the girl who came to her from a foundling's home becomes her heir.

France Sky Clipper Sets Speed Record

BORDEAUX, Dec. 28.—France's giant flying boat Lieutenant De Vaisseau Paris, piloted by Henri Guillaumet, set a new speed record for its category Monday by flying 1,000 kilometres (621.37 miles) with a payload of 10,000 kilograms (22,046 at an average speed or 221.002 kilometres (137.3228 miles) per hour.

VARSITY MEN TOLD WORLD WOE SEETHES

Democratic Nations Afraid Of War Says Gotham Cleric

WINNIPEG, Dec. 28.—Democratic nations are afraid to take steps to establish a system of international order because they are threatened within themselves by class struggle, Dr. Reinhold Neibuhr, chairman of Christian ethics at Union Theological Seminary, New York, contended here.

"We are living in a world where there is strife between the so-called fascist nations and the so-called democratic nations, which indirectly produced fascism by their vindictive treaty of Versailles," Dr. Neibuhr declared last night in addressing the third national conference of Canadian university students.

SESSIONS OPEN

The five-day sessions opened yesterday with 350 delegates representing all Canadian universities. Neil Morrison of McGill University, Montreal, is chairman.

"All democratic nations today are trying to avoid the next war but I believe that their struggle to avoid it will only make their involvement in it the more inevitable," said Dr. Neibuhr.

"It is like a green tragedy in which the victim involves himself in his own fate and makes his doom more certain by every step that he takes to avoid it."

Henri-Paul Lemay of Montreal University brought greetings from 8,339 French-Canadian students. He pleased for greater sympathy of the rest of Canada for Quebec which was vitally interested in social movements.

REVOLUTION IN CHINA IS SEEN AS POSSIBILITY

Dr. Chen Chang Lok, New Minister To Canada, Discusses Labor

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—Revolution in China is a "possibility," reporters were told today by Dr. Chen Chang Lok, Chinese consul at Ottawa, who came here to make a public address.

"It's a possibility in view of present labor conditions," said Dr. Chen when asked if there was danger of revolution in China. "They were bad enough before the war but now are much worse. Prices have gone up and people are too poor to buy. That alone might force a revolution."

Dr. Chen said China, whose air force was being reinforced by planes built in Russia, "must not think of her property right now, but rather of reduction of her fore's army." The "hundreds" of new Russian planes, he said, "will be able to attack at any place now with a much more fair chance of fighting. They are far superior to the Japanese planes."

Youth Charged With Merchant's Murder

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Dec. 28. — A murder charge was laid early today against William Robichaud, 24, at the end of an inquest into the shooting of Aaron N. Cohen in an attempted hold-up at the 58-year-old merchant's store Dec. 17.

Frances Ward, 23, testified Robichaud had told her he shot the elderly merchant. The girl said she later had induced Robichaud to give her the revolver with which police alleged the shooting was committed.

Why did Ford build TWO new cars for 1938?

It's a natural question. And there's a logical answer—to meet a definite demand for a car like the new De Luxe Ford V-8 for 1938.

The De Luxe was designed for those who like the basic Ford features but want more size and style. It brings both size and style at low Ford prices.

THE DE LUXE—THE STANDARD

The De Luxe is an addition to the Ford line. It is spacious, with richer appointments. Sedans have a larger luggage space. And under the hood is the 85-horsepower V-8 engine.

The new Standard Ford is in many ways a better car than the 1937 Ford V-8, bought by more people than any other 1937 car. It is newly styled, inside and out. It is even lower priced than the De Luxe, but built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence. It also gives the performance and thrift of the 85-horsepower V-8 engine.

LOW PRICE—HIGH PLEASURE

V-type 8-cylinder engines were used only in expensive cars before Ford produced them efficiently at a low price. Since then, four million Ford owners have found that enjoyment and economy can be built into the same 8 cylinders by good design. The Ford V-8 engine brings 8-cylinder pleasure into the base of the low-price field—in first cost and operating cost. Owners report 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gas.

With two beautiful designs and two price ranges, it's easier than ever to pick a Ford car that fits your personal preference. Whichever one you choose, you'll get the service and value for which the Ford name stands. . . . There's a Ford dealer near you.

New Logging Development Is Announced

VANCOUVER, Dec. 28.—Pioneer Timber Company, Ltd., announced Monday it was developing an extensive new logging operation near Port McNeill on Broughton Strait between the northern tip of Vancouver Island and the mainland in Rupert forestry district.

A company spokesman said the operation would run up to 50 million board feet a year, and the entire output would be marketed and manufactured in British Columbia. He said advance orders would insure continuous operation for several years.

SANTA FE, N.M., Dec. 28.—Archbishop Rudolph A. He said the health centre is "in reality a birth control clinic even though some attention may be given to other laudable effort."

Carol Confers With Rumania Chief Of Army

BUCHAREST, Dec. 28. — Rumania's political situation entered deeper obscurity Monday, when King Carol conferred with Ion Antonescu, army commandant, and Octavian Goga, anti-Semitic leader who is friendly to Germany.

Premier George Tatarescu's Liberal party failed to win a majority in the Chamber of Deputies election last week, creating a cabinet crisis. The premier tendered his resignation, but Carol temporarily withheld acceptance.

Sportsman Dies

KINGSTON, Ont., Dec. 28.—William Murray, for 40 years clerk of Pittsburgh township, died Monday at Barriefield after a long illness. He was born on Wolfe Island 80 years ago. For many years he was prominent as an auctioneer and horse-race starter.

Troops Fight Armed Arabs

JERUSALEM, Dec. 28.—Sporadic encounters between armed Arab bands and detachments of troops and police in northern Palestine continued throughout Monday. Some 1,500 troops, police and members of the Transjordan Frontier Force are engaged in the operations.

The intensity of the fighting diminished somewhat last night, permitting return to Haifa of part of the troops concentrated in the Tiberias region.

Youth Charged With Merchant's Murder

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Dec. 28. — A murder charge was laid early today against William Robichaud, 24, at the end of an inquest into the shooting of Aaron N. Cohen in an attempted hold-up at the 58-year-old merchant's store Dec. 17.

Frances Ward, 23, testified Robichaud had told her he shot the elderly merchant. The girl said she later had induced Robichaud to give her the revolver with which police alleged the shooting was committed.

THEIR BUSY TIME

High officials at Tokyo are congratulating themselves on having made sufficient, if somewhat tardy, reparations for the sinking of the Panay, and thus got themselves out of a tight corner by appeasing resentment at Washington.

Now if they will just hurry up and make amends at London for the attack on the Ladybird and a few other outrages, they may get the docket cleared in time to bring in the 1938 model of explanations at New Year's.

WELL DONE

While thanks are due to each and every one who helped to play Santa Claus to any one in need, a word of gratitude may be extended in particular to all who contributed cash or kind or time to help bring the Not Forgotten Fund up to the splendid proportions attained. It will be good news to these that through their generosity Christmas cheer was provided for sixty-two returned men in the University hospital and to fifteen in other Edmonton hospitals, while parcels were sent to some disabled veterans now residing elsewhere who had formerly been treated in these institutions.

The fund tallied well up toward double the amount of last year, convincing evidence to the stricken and bed-ridden men that their services "over there" are "not forgotten."

OTHERS FIRST

Albertans seem to have made a new record over the week-end, by getting themselves into more accidents than they ever did at a former Yuletide. Cold weather, icy streets and roads, frenzied shoppers, and a generous use of cars contributed to make motoring dangerous alike to motorists and pedestrians, and motor mis-haps account for the great majority of the items on the list.

Fortunately also the great majority were minor affairs, with cuts and bruises and car damages the worst results.

Christmas has passed, but not the conditions which make the streets and roadways dangerous. These will continue indefinitely. May the Christmas spirit also linger, and display itself in a more general and consistent regard for the common safety. There can be no more fitting way to show the abiding influence of the season than that of using the streets and highways with consideration for the security, convenience and happiness of others. And that seems to be a kind of expression greatly in need.

CHRISTMAS AND CRIME

Alberta newspapermen have a grievance, and a hope. They would like to be able sometime to make up the paper on Christmas eve without having to splash on the front page the record of some horrible Alberta crime. For three years in a row it has been a painful duty to have to print the age-old wish for a "Merry Christmas" alongside the story that a brutal killing has taken place somewhere in this province.

Murder is always awful, but more awful than usual when it occurs in the season of "peace and good will." Perhaps in the general rejoicing and merry-making there is something that stirs a recollection of old quarrels, and sharpens a rankling hatred, and leads to the act as it may. Alberta's Christmas eve crime record is one of horror.

Here's hoping that on Christmas eves to come Alberta papers may not have to print, and Alberta readers may not have to read, heart-breaking accounts of people done to death while everywhere the presents are being got ready and the trees decorated for the great festival of good will and good cheer.

MAY THEY CONTINUE

In his broadcast on Saturday, the King hinted that he may not continue the practice established by his father of thus giving a direct personal greeting on great occasions to the peoples of the British nations. For the reason: "I cannot aspire to take his place, nor do I think that you would wish me to carry on, unvaried, a tradition so personal to him."

While appreciating this desire to avoid detracting from the prestige of the late King, and the fine feeling thus shown, there will be an almost unanimous wish that King George VI may dismiss his fears and continue these periodic broadcasts. There is no danger that his messages will be misconstrued as an attempt to usurp the place of the late King. And it is well worth while that the scattered peoples of the Empire should on occasion hear the voice of their Sovereign convey to them in a direct and personal way his wishes for their unity, prosperity and happiness.

While it is true King George V established this custom, this in part was because it was only during his reign that such broadcasts became possible. King Edward or Queen Victoria would probably have made use of the same means to greet their subjects everywhere had those means been available in their time. The many millions who listen regularly to these intimate broadcasts from the Royal fireside will hope that they may be continued, and that television will soon enable them to see as well as hear His Majesty.

Those particular people who insisted that Edmonton should have Christmassy weather certainly got it.

Mr. J. J. Gaetz, who died on Friday, was one of the pioneers of the Red Deer district. He came there from Newfoundland as a young man more than fifty years ago, homesteading near the site of the present city, and has been a continuous resident ever since. He was elected as a Liberal member of the legislature in a by-election in 1918, and served out the term, going down in the general U.F.A. landslide of 1921.

Newton D. Baker, United States secretary of war in the Wilson administration, died Saturday. Thus passes another of the men who directed the Allied efforts in the titanic struggle of twenty years ago. To none of them fell the task of marshalling such tremendous forces, of men and material in quick time; an achievement which hastened the close of the war, if it did not actually decide the outcome.

From end to end British Columbia got a foot of fresh snow for Christmas; providing, Victoria rather boastfully proclaims, the first "white Christmas" it has seen for eighteen years. Vancouver got more than a foot of the beautiful between Friday and Sunday night, while along the Fraser river the receipt of four feet of snow was acknowledged at many points, with or without thanks.

ON SUCH MIRACLES

We are reminded by those who interest themselves in anniversaries that 36 years ago, this last week, a gifted Italian sat down, tapped a telegraph key and performed a miracle.

The sputtering, crackling sparks his keytapping caused to jump into the air were weak little things—apparently. They flashed and died, and a person a few hundred yards away could neither have seen nor heard them.

But somehow they reached into empty spaces and tapped an available source of energy. Far across the Atlantic Ocean they caused a telegraph receiving set to click out a message. Guglielmo Marconi had bridged space and had sent a message 3,000 miles through the inert atmosphere.

His miracle of wireless telegraphy is so familiar now that most of the time we fail to recognize it as a miracle at all, taking it just as much for granted as we do all every-day miracles as sunrise, a baby's laugh or the love of a boy for a girl.

But it remains a miracle, nevertheless. And we might have a better understanding of the world we live in if we could remember that the whole structure of modern society is built on just such miracles, so that the mere existence of our complicated civilization is one of the most breath-taking miracles of all time.—Victoria Times.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW

When the prophecy is made that this Lethbridge decision points to an early ouster of the present bizarre regime, it assumes a meaning that simply is not there. In the first place, Aberhart has consistently been losing in the cities that prestige which he has been gaining in the country districts. In the second place, Lethbridge, with its 7,000 voters, is not a considerable, or even a typical factor in Alberta's political set-up. In the third place, the vote against the Aberhart candidate (2,940 in 1935 and 3,980 in 1937) does not represent such an increase in sentiment against Social Credit as to indicate or forecast any province-wide sweep. No one is more anxious to see order restored to the Alberta chaos than ourselves. No one would hail a return to normal thinking with more satisfaction. But there is no use in indulging in these idle deluions. There is no sense in making prophecies that have no basis in fact. The wish may be father to the thought. But the wish is not yet potent enough to swing a provincial election. — Vancouver Sun.

CANADA SHOULD NOTE

Sinking of the United States gunboat Panay by the Japanese Air Force, not to speak of the now known extraordinary circumstances under which the sinking took place, has a lesson for Canada, too.

Minister of Justice Lapointe, certainly no militarist, pointed the lesson in a speech he delivered in Quebec on Sunday. The incident, he said, brought home to Canada the urgent need for defensive armaments, of immediate and adequate steps to protect her own coasts.

Fortunately, evidence is coming that the Government is at last awakening to the realities of the situation, is moving to meet them. Defence Minister Mackenzie's outlined program of last week, though supported in one case by wrong arguments, is sound in that.

The proof has not come too soon. The sincerest anti-militarist, the blindest pacifist, can no longer imagine that Canada can go on living in this world as it is without readiness to defend herself from aggression. Whether we are Isolationists or Imperialists, no matter what our intellectual or emotional approach to the defence question, the truth is stark that defence we must have. We may regret the truth, regret our position; our regrets can't change the facts.—Ottawa Journal.

SUGAR-COATING THE CURRICULUM

To those of us who are getting along in years it will be a distinct surprise to learn that under the new primary school curriculum it is difficult to get children to go home from school. Yet members of the London Teachers' Institute were informed that such was the case by Thornton Mustard, head of the committee which reorganized the curriculum. Dr. Mustard also said that parents were complaining because their children would not stay home from school even when ill.

There have been plenty of complaints about school curricula from time to time, but this is certainly a new one. If it is justified the men who draw up the new schedule of studies must have more than a touch of genius in their make-up.

Shakespeare told of the schoolboy with bright morning face creeping unwillingly to school, and down the generations that picture has persisted. School was generally regarded as a place where youth had to go to have certain necessary facts pounded into their heads. The process was regarded as necessarily painful both for those instilling the knowledge and for those receiving it.

Of course the change has been gradual rather than revolutionary. Perhaps the introduction of kindergarten work and of manual training and household science had advanced by 15 per cent which freight rates will be advanced by 15 per cent.

Washington: Evidence has been unearthed that American Industrial Workers of the World, Russian Bolsheviki, Irish agitators and others, were working on a world-wide plan to overthrow existing social institutions.

Your Health

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Two periods of life are critical, and in both of them, profound bodily changes occur. One of them is seen in the forties and fifties, in men and women passing through what has been called "The Dangerous Age."

The other is the equally upsetting period affecting the youngster entering adolescence, when childhood is left behind and the growing-up process is under way. The average parent trying to live in the same house with an adolescent feels that the obedient child previously known has been snatched away and a stranger left in its place.

Most parents wring their hands in despair, making disparaging remarks about "what the new generation is coming to," and the home becomes filled with bitterness and antagonisms. Many times the mother says, "At your age I would not have dared to talk back like you do," and the child in turn usually has the feeling that the parents are so old-fashioned they belong back in the horse-and-buggy-days.

The age of adolescence has been called "The Terrible Teens," and is the despair of many mothers. Instead of wasting time wondering how the youngster is ever going to amount to anything, the sensible thing to do is to realize that he or she is going through a most important stage in development. It is all a part of the growing-up process and the wise parent accepts the growing pains and tries to understand and encourage. Even though all attempts in that direction are usually misconstrued by the child and therefore are unappreciated.

The adolescent experiences more or less turmoil because of changes taking place in the endocrine glands. In addition to physical changes, he is also experiencing mental changes. One of the signs of his developing mentality is his desire to think for himself. He rebels against the authority of the parent chiefly because such rebellion is natural to that stage. The desire for freedom is in itself a very healthy sign.

Some of the symptoms of adolescence are rudeness, the use of slang, the wish to argue, asking for more spending money, the desire to come and go at any and all hours without supervision, contradiction of the statements of others, and dissatisfaction with the clothing provided. Still another symptom is the rapid changing of ideas from day to day, so that an idea bitterly defended yesterday is dropped today.

If you have noticed any of these symptoms in your child of the 'teen age, take the point of view that they will be very like the symptoms of disease, eventually disappearing. The adolescent is difficult to live with because he is going through a difficult time.

By antagonizing him during the few difficult years you encourage him to grow away from you. On the other hand, a little common sense and a little dash of the "let alone" treatment, not only helps the young person but will make it possible to keep his or her affection and regard.

If the parents and the child weather the storm successfully a abiding companionship is built up, and the parents are later rewarded by closeness to the grown son or daughter.

Let the adolescent try his wings without interfering too much. Instead of driving your child away from you by finding fault, suggesting, try to understand. These years are difficult and call for patience, but when they are over, you will have a grown son or daughter of whom you will be very proud.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—Mrs. M. L. writes: "My husband had a doctor's examination and the report was marked bradycardia. We would like to know what it means."

ANSWER: By bradycardia is meant a slow heart action. The opposite term is tachycardia, which refers to a rapid heart.

QUESTION—Mrs. D. S. N. writes: "I am puzzled to know what to do about my baby, who is in good health, breast-fed, and seems to have considerable colic."

ANSWER: The colic which occurs in young babies is commonly due to the air which is swallowed with the feedings, or to stomach gas. It is easy to demonstrate the presence of the gas by examining the infant with the fluoroscope and during the examination the bubble of gas will look like a small balloon. When the baby is kept lying on the back, the escape of the gas from the stomach by way of the tube through which food is swallowed, will be prevented. The gas or air then passes into the small intestine where it is absorbed in the course of the digestion known as colic. It is sometimes possible to avoid colic in young babies by placing the infant in a position where he is lying on his stomach. In this position it is easier for the gas or air to be belched up. I therefore suggest that you try placing the baby so that he lies with the abdomen down. If the colic continues, then probably there is something in your diet which keeps the breast-milk from agreeing with the baby and either you should follow a more careful diet, or the baby should be fed artificially. I believe you will understand that it is hard for me to give you definite advice without examining the infant and without knowing whether the colic is severe or slight.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

The Annual Balance Sheet of The Royal Bank of Canada made public shows a moderate growth in deposits and total assets and a strong liquid position. Total deposits amount to $756,089,696 and are higher than at any period in the bank's history, with the single exception of 1929.

Current loans in Canada, including loans to municipalities and provincial governments, amount to $200,563,727, an increase of approximately $12,765,000 as compared with the previous year. Current loans outside of Canada amounting to $101,147,196 are approximately $4,000,000 lower than a year ago. Commercial loans after a steady decline in current loans over a period of seven years, the reversal in the trend of commercial loans is encouraging.

The liquid position is strong, total readily realizable assets being $514,671,335.

Net profits for the year are shown at $3,711,379 and compared with 1936 indicate an improvement of $307,138. Dividends paid absorbed $2,800,000. The usual appropriation of $300,000 was made for bank premises but the contribution to the Pension Fund Society was increased to $300,000 as compared with the former appropriation of $200,000. Balance of Profits and Loss Account carried forward totals $2,325,176, an increase of $411,360.

Old Country Letter

By J. E. NORCROSS

LONDON, Eng. — (By Mail) — The British are not good advertisers. If they were more would be heard of the British Industries Fair which is to be staged at the end of February.

Fairs of this sort have been held for centuries and some of them, such as that which formerly drew the traders from half of Asia to Nibani Novgorod, have become famous the world over. The British Industries Fair is still very young — it was first opened in 1915, right in the middle of the war—but it is already the largest and most important.

So large is it. J. E. Norcross in fact, that it has to be held in three sections, occupying the three largest exhibition buildings in the whole world; they are Olympia and Earl's Court, London, and Castle Bromwich, Birmingham.

The B.I.F. began in a small way in a warehouse at the London Docks where in the first year the exhibits occupied 8,714 square feet. Already applications are in for the coming Fair aggregating 955,000 square feet. The exhibitors will number nearly 3,000.

Anywhere but in this remarkable country so signal an achievement would be blazoned forth. But they don't make a song about it here—at least I have heard no singing yet.

The British Industries Fair is the spearhead of Britain's export trade. It shows the goods—textiles, machinery, hardware, pottery, printing and electrical equipment, everything, in fact, turned out by the manufacturers for export.

Buyers are coming from all over the world. The smaller countries again lead the way in announcing their intention of sending visitors, followed at the head of the list, after then Belgium and the Irish Free State. Textiles are most in demand by Serbia in a country one-fifth of the export trade of which consists of the products of its looms.

Finally, it will take 9,000 people to show the goods.

"I know," replied Alfred, "but if I can trust you for the first half of the week, surely you can trust me for the second!"

WHAT TECHNOLOGY STATES

Editor, Bulletin: I note with interest that our Premier states that he refuses to believe the statement that the year 1938 will see the beginning of the worst depression that we have ever seen and that in 1940 there will be a complete collapse of all civilization.

No one has yet said that all civilization will disintegrate by 1940. Technocracy Inc. has and does point out that the Price System on this continent will so disintegrate and that will result in the complete destruction of the present American civilization and the American peoples unless they take steps to put a new metrical civilization in its place.

supply ship, and the lieutenant-governor had to go ashore in the Niagara frontier to personally thank Captain Andrew Drew, R.N., and promote a knighthood for John MacNab.

The opening of the legislature was a love feast. Practically all the Reformers were absent; some of them were in jail; others were fugitives. Was it not then that Sir Allan Head's speech from the throne was a pean of praise for himself? He did not know that within a few days his letter of recall would come from London or that within two years he would be charged by Lord Durham with being the cause of the whole trouble in Upper Canada. Even Mackenzie himself, in his flamboyant proclamation of his "republic" on December 13 had admitted that the Head government was granting concessions.

Before that "jubilee" session of the legislature was prorogued, votes of thanks were passed to both MacNab and Drew, and each was presented with a gold sword-sheath at the expense of the treasury of Upper Canada. MacNab was destined to be long the Tory leader in Upper Canada; Drew went back to the navy, where he had a distinguished career before settling in England, where he died in 1878, forgotten, except when his famous act on Dec. 30, 1837, very nearly embroiled Britain in war with the United States.

Two days later the whole province was stirred by the announcement of the cutting out of the Caroline which Mackenzie's allies were using as a

YOUNG MOTHER TAKES LIFE OF NEIGHBOR BABY

GREENBROOK, N.J., Dec. 28. — Police said last night a young woman, mother of a two-months-old baby, killed the five-months-old daughter of her landlord because "their baby was warm and mine was cold."

County Detective Charles Alleger said Mrs. Sophie Arcuri, who had complained of lack of heat in her home, slashed the throat of Christina Bordolon with a paring knife and laid her body under the Bordolon Christmas tree. The Arcuris and Bordolons lived in the same house on Greenbrook road.

Finding the body in a pool of blood, Mrs. Louis Bordolon became hysterical and accused Mrs. Arcuri of the slaying, Alleger said. With a knife in hand, Mrs. Arcuri chased her accuser to the home of a neighbor, the detective said.

Science knows neither fear nor favor, speculation, mysticism, pessimism, optimism or any other kind of "ism". It either knows or it does not know. If it does not know it remains silent till it finds out. Technocracy is that branch of science that is Social Engineering.

Technocracy, therefore, states, with no element of fear or pessimism, but, solely, as an accurately measurable and observable fact that the four major factors of Debt, Production, Population and Technological Unemployment will destroy this North American Price System by 1940. Whether we like it or not, whether we believe it or not will make no difference. Technology has written "Mene, mene, tekel upharsin" (It has been weighed in the balance and found wanting) across the walls of the Price System. CONFIDENCE NEEDED

Editor Bulletin: Are we to believe that our governments know less about the present state of affairs than do those who write to the paper stating that we are due for a worse depression next year and a breakdown of our capital system by 1940. We are told that engineers, scientists say this, but if this is true, why are not these men prominent in our political parties? Is it because our leaders know that these men would attempt to destroy our democracy and replace it with dictatorships?

The present system has been in existence for thousands of years. If it worked all that time without breaking down, why should it break down now? What we want is not all these long, scientific words, but some of the patriotic confidence that Sir Wilfrid Laurier gave us. We need some of the political material like our Fathers of Confederation to show up these annexationists.—REAL CANADIAN.

PROPAGANDA?

Editor, Bulletin: In estimating events in Soviet Russia, the word of such distinguished a person as Cora Hind, the Dean of Canterbury and many other such notables can be considered as honest judgment. Your uninformed correspondent, Mr. Dosoch, is either gulled by propaganda from distant sources or is motivated by malice and ignorance of the facts. At the present time, Rome and Berlin are concentrating upon such propaganda, with the aim of ultimately attacking the Soviet Union, in other words, setting up "a democratic regime" in the Ukraine and so forth.

Agricultural research has made remarkable progress in Soviet Russia and Cora Hind is an expert on these matters whose advice is of utmost importance. Many new methods of grain growing are being tested that can eventually be of great benefit to Canadian farmers. The discovery of perennial wheat may make it possible to change the whole situation in the drought areas in western Canada.

Regarding the grossly exaggerated stories of shootings of certain people in Russia, of this one can be certain. Any citizen who is positively opposed to the exploitation of one person by another, who has the best interests of society at heart and is willing to co-operate for the common good, who detests fascism and sabotage, he or she not only need have no fear of any consequences but has every chance to take part in the great program of reconstruction going on in the U.S.S.R.

The certain small group of wreckers and assassins who have paid the penalty for their campaign of destruction were found guilty after a fair trial. As agents for fascist countries, these people betrayed the trust of their fellow men and carried on a satanic plan of sabotage, wrecking and murder. This has been proven beyond doubt as Mr. Cowper pointed out in his column in the "Bulletin" some time ago. At that, the number is small compared to the thousands who were hung in the Ukraine during the reign of terror under Skoropashky, father of the "Prince".

Mr. Dosoch does not mention the hundreds of thousands of innocent civilians murdered in Spain by the bombs of Hitler and Mussolini, nor does he appear in the least interested in the slaughter or lack of these people by just such people as were caught in time in the Soviet Union.

I am, Sir,

Impersonation Slicker's Career Reaches Hiatus

NEW YORK, Dec 28.—The 29-year reign of "the great impersonation," as portrayed by Dapper Frederick Emerson Peters, 51, reached a hiatus in federal court Monday.

The trim-figured, smartly-groomed Peters, who has impersonated at least 132 well-known public characters since 1908—including the late President Theodore Roosevelt, Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.—took his curtain bow for a two-year sojourn in prison resulting from his latest series of "cash and carry" takeoffs.

OTHER ALIASES

Other aliases attributed to him by prosecution Attorney John J. Dowling included "Franklin Roosevelt 3rd," "Gifford Pinchot 2nd," "Clement Studebaker 3rd," "Dr. Frank A. Kellogg 2nd," "Austin H. MacCormick" and "Commander Richard Wainwright."

"He was so successful," Dowling told the court, "that he never had to make a second visit to his victims. They parted with their money on the first visit."

In his role as a "man of 100 faces," Peters fleeced victims in Philadelphia, New York City, Detroit, Cincinnati, Chicago, Columbus and Dayton; Rochester and Buffalo, St. Louis, Peoria, Ill.; Davenport, Ia., Providence, R.I., San Francisco and a score of other cities.

WORKED AS EXTRA

Peters described himself as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Peters of Cleveland. He has worked as a motion picture extra.

The federal indictment to which he pleaded guilty charged him with misrepresenting himself as Dr. R. B. Baker, United States army, of Washington, D.C., and obtaining $25 under false pretenses.

DESTROYER FREES FREIGHTER FROM REBEL CRUISERS

PERPIGNAN, France, Dec. 28.—The French destroyer Vauquelin Monday rescued the French freighter Yolande from two Spanish insurgent cruisers which ordered the freighter to follow them to insurgent-held Mallorca, island in the western Mediterranean.

The 3,859-ton Yolande was en route from Marseille to Barcelona when stopped by the insurgent cruisers Canarias and Almirante Ververa.

The insurgents accused the French vessel of transporting arms to government forces.

The freighter's wireless appeal for help brought the destroyer which ordered the cruisers to release the French ship.

The Yolande was escorted to Port Vendres, France, where its cargo was sealed for examination today. France, like Britain, forbids its ships to carry arms to Spain.

SILVER BUYING PROGRAM SOON TO BE STATED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. — Some informed officials indicated last night that President Roosevelt might put his silver buying program on a 24-hour basis.

His custom in the past has been to issue a proclamation fixing the treasury price for newly-mined domestic silver for a year. It was learned today Mr. Roosevelt might announce silver prices would be subject to change at any time conditions warranted.

This action may be taken Thursday or Friday. He has promised to "say something about silver" this week. Unless he extends the present policy, the existing proclamation, establishing the domestic silver price at 77.57 cents an ounce or about 32 cents above the world price, will expire Friday night.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau has indicated the policy of buying more for domestic than foreign silver would continue, but the new price is being kept secret, because of its importance to speculators. Because, however, of warnings from Utter state legislators that a reduction in the price would throw thousands of miners out of work, the price is not expected to be much, if any, different from the present one.

Everyone Little Crazy Except Thee and Me

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 28.—Insanity or a tendency to insanity exists in a large number of American people who are in casual observation apparently sane, two university of Cincinnati scientists told the American Association for the Advancement of Science Monday.

Paraphrasing a remark of the late Will Rogers that "we're all dumb except on different subjects," Prof. James Vaughn said Othilda Krug declared that "insanity is a difference in degree and not in kind" and many persons are at least partly crazy.

The two psychologists discovered this by testing a group of 43 patients in an Ohio mental hospital and another group, comparable in size, of college students. As a result it appears that a large number of supposedly normal people should trade places with a number of insane patients in mental hospitals, they declared.

The insane patients showed evidence of greater dissociation and less agreement with their environment "but it is surprising to find so many apparently normal people presenting similar tendencies," the Cincinnati scientists reported.

Man Saves Chicks But Loses Life

HAZELTON, B.C., Dec. 28.—Oscar Lund, 73, saved his baby chicks but lost his own life when fire destroyed his cabin near this Bulkley Valley town Sunday.

Lund, who came to northern British Columbia in 1909 from his native Sweden, rushed into the burning building and carried the chicks outside. Then he ran back, apparently for personal effects. His body was found inside the front door, near a cupboard where he was believed to keep his money.

Lady Tweedsmuir Has Library Grant

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—The governor general's secretary last night announced Lady Tweedsmuir has received from the Carnegie Corporation of New York a grant of $1,000 for development of her prairie library scheme. The announcement said Lady Tweedsmuir expressed deep gratitude to the corporation for its gift and that it would be used to purchase books for distribution by Women's Institute and other similar organizations in the prairie provinces.

CHINESE ARMY SOON TO MAKE BIG OFFENSIVE

SHANGHAI, Dec. 28.—A general Chinese counter-offensive within the next two months was predicted today by Chinese official sources.

These spokesmen said arrival of reinforcements and new material on various fronts has re-established the morale of the Chinese soldiery.

Appointment of Chinese Communist leaders to important army commands raised belief the Communists would obtain greater administrative control as well.

Aim of the Communist appointments is to give the military operations a degree of effectiveness. While no official announcement has been made among the Communist leaders known to have received important posts are:

Mao Tse-Tung, president of the old Chinese Soviet government—named governor of Kansu province.

Chu-Teh, commander of the eighth route army—named to the command of all Chinese forces in Shansi, Suiyuan, and Ninghsia provinces.

Lace Makes Fashion Comeback

Old Favorite Is Brought Out In New Guises

Dark green lace is treated in an entirely new manner in this evening gown. Wide box pleats stitched to just below the hipline fall in graceful folds all around the body. The jabot front is flattering and the long sleeves as well as the high back contribute the sheer effect which always makes for added glamor.

ISLAY WEDDING OF INTEREST TO MANY FRIENDS

ISLAY, Dec. 28.—St. John's Anglican church in Islay was the setting for a pretty winter wedding one afternoon recently when Sarah Little Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw of Islay became the bride of William A. Teskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Teskey, also of Islay.

Rev. T. W. Teape officiated at the ceremony while playing the wedding marches was Mrs. William Roebuck.

OF BLUE SHEER

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charmingly fashioned in a wedding gown of blue sheer over crepe, and she wore a blue velvet hat. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of white carnations.

Attending her sister as bridesmaid, Miss Edith Shaw chose for the occasion a lovely dress of blue taffeta with matching hat and accessories. Her bouquet was of pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. John Teskey attended his brother as best man.

FIFTY GUESTS

Following the ceremony a reception to 50 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Teskey will make their home in Islay.

Gloves are doing their bit to add to the glamor of formal finery. For evening, there are lovely black suede and satin numbers with sequins or gold scroll designs on cuffs. Some are made entirely of gold kid or shiny sequins in various colors.

Double Duty Dresses

IS THERE anybody there?" said the Traveller,
Knocking on the moonlit door;
And his horse in the silence champed the grasses
Of the forest's ferny floor;
And a bird flew up out of the turret,
Above the Traveller's head;
And he smote upon the door again a second time:
"Is there anybody there?" he said.
But no one descended to the Traveller;
No head from the leaf-fringed sill
Leaned over and looked into his grey eyes,
Where he stood perplexed and still.
But only a host of phantom listeners
That dwelt in the lonely house then,
Stood listening in the quiet of the moonlight
To that voice from the world of men:
Stood thronging the precincts beneath the dark stair,
That gods down to the empty hall,
Harkening in an air stirred and shaken
By the lonely Traveller's call.
And he felt in his heart their strangeness,
Their stillness answering his cry,
While his horse moved cropping the dark turf.
'Neath the starred and leafy sky;
For he suddenly smote on the door, even
Louder, and lifted his head:
'Tell them I came, and no one answered,
That I kept my word," he said.
Never the least stir made the listeners,
Though every word he spake
Fell echoing through the shadowiness of the still house
From the one man left awake:
Ay, they heard his foot upon the stirrup,
And the sound of going on stone,
And how the silence surged softly backward,
When the plunging hoofs were gone.

Now, Mr. Man Are You Going To Be Good?

New York, says Miss Ruth Millett, is providing a mutt-and-Jeff reply to those oh, so dominant males who say that "Women are all right in business, but—"

For women are in on the ground floor of the 1939 World's Fair construction. Don't think their jobs employed simply to give the Fair the touch of a woman's hand. There refreshments were served.

Gorgeous holiday-time frocks in the latest of fashion's modes, and vieing in brilliance the charm and beauty of the rainbow were noticed among the dancers, against the more sombre colors of the men's attire.

EXECUTIVE ABILITY

So you don't think a woman has much executive ability, eh? . . . Well, did you know that whenever there is an important meeting of the committee that lets World's Fair contracts a slim, red-headed young woman presides? A charming person who looks like a Kathleen Norris word portrait of the successful young business woman. Her name is Mary Louise Jorzick. And her title? This ought to impress you—Assistant Secretary of the World's Fair Corporation.

So it's true; is it, that you didn't trust your wife to plan that extra room you built on your house? . . . Then maybe you'll raise a double-fat eyebrow over Marion Foley—for that young lady is not only a graduate civil engineer, she's holding down an engineering job out at the Fairgrounds. Daily this girl who received her training at Cornell University is proving that she can make as accurate estimates as any engineer in the construction department.

LANDSCAPE DESIGNER

You, Mr. Man, probably wouldn't trust a woman to lay out that garden you want in your back yard. But the World's Fair Corporation is trusting a woman to replace Flushing Bay swamps with trees and shrubbery. The woman landscape designer who knows all about trees and how to get rid of soft ground is Helen Bullard. She isn't the least bit awed by the knowledge that there are ten thousand trees and fifty thousand shrubs for which likely spots will have to be found.

Honestly, now, haven't you said more than once in your life, "Women have no head for figures?" . . . Well then, I guess you'll be surprised to hear that the Fair has a woman statistician on the payroll. She not only holds the job—she loves it. Something about a row of sharp pencils and a good hard problem are irresistible to Sara Lowe, a Pittsburgh girl who gave up drawing cuddly babies and pretty girls to take intricate charts and maps.

So, Mr. Man, be careful how you go around dismissing women with a word. Even some of the most beguilingly feminine members of the sex are doing your work—and doing it well.

Beloved Pair Are Married 50 Years

SEDGEWICK, Dec. 28. — Old friends for many miles around assembled at the pleasant farm home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hallum at Sedgewick recently to congratulate the beloved couple on the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding in Scotland in 1887.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallum were made the recipients of a handsome cedar and oak chest and many other gifts in token of the affection of their neighbors who later served at a evening of recitations, music and community singing.

If all the rain that fell on the earth during the course of a year could be gathered together at one time, it would cover the entire globe to a depth of 29.13 inches.

Tea Dansant Draws Smart Holiday Crowd

Smartest of mid-holiday affairs, echoing the gayety of the Christmas holiday week-end and giving foretaste of the many lovely affairs arranged to herald the New Year, was the attractively planned tea dance in the main dining room of the Macdonald hotel on Boxing Day afternoon.

Evergreens with twinkling lights, frosty branches with gay baubles of liquid color suspended from them, sprays of holly with scarlet berries and mistletoe formed a most festive background for the party at which a number of Edmonton's younger set gathered to dance and dine.

Frocks reflecting the smart Parisian modes of today, and belying the caption of "We're not dressing" given them, flashed amid the throng of partygoers.

Noticed among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Jenkerson, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kinlin, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Brockie, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lessard, Mrs. A. E. Bean of Maymont, Saskatchewan and her party, Mrs. C. Guest, Mr. and Mrs. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Dowdell, Miss Audrey Michaels, Miss Marie Foley, Mr. A. Reed, Mr. Kenneth Madsen.

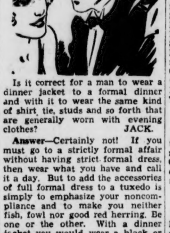

Miss Elsie Stewart, Mr. George Bishop, Miss Betty Colvin, Mr. Rod McClure of Calgary, Miss Eleanor McDougall, Mr. Jack Forman.

Miss Ida Charlesworth, Miss Marjorie Charlesworth, Mr. Ellsworth Prisson, Mr. Fraser Goddard, Miss Pauline McEvoy, Miss Eva M. Newton, Mr. J. G. Rowlatt, Mr. G. J. Newton.

Miss Doris Thomlinson, Miss Frances McLeod, Miss Jeanne McIntyre, Mr. Henry McD. Dunlap, Mr. Donald McIntyre, Mr. J. G. Basford.

Miss J. Austin, Mr. James Clouston, Miss Patricia Rooney, Miss Alexa Burn, Mr. Robert Halpenny, Mr. D'Alton Ford and many others.

What To Do

Is it correct for a man to wear a dinner jacket to a formal dinner and with it to wear the same kind of shirt tie, studs and so forth that are generally worn with evening clothes? JACK.

Answer—Certainly not! If you must go to a strictly formal affair without having strict formal dress. then wear what you have and call it a day. But to add the accessories of full formal dress to a tuxedo is simply to abandon your correctness of appliance and to make you neither fish, fowl nor good red herring. Be one or the other. With a dinner jacket you would wear a black or white waistcoat, a wing collar with a black bow tie; a plain stiff bosom shirt and black shoes and socks.

Of wide interest in University and dramatic circles throughout the province is the news received here today of the marriage of Donald Elwy Mitchell of Edmonton, and Miss Dora M. Henry Gau, Camrose Old Timer, Dies

Burns and Co., Edmonton for a year before moving to Dayland to establish a meat market. In 1908 Mr. Gau entered partnership with C. J. Gunter, Camrose, an alliance that remained mutually agreeable throughout the years and was only terminated when the health of the deceased failed early in April this year. In 1910 Mr. Gau married Mrs. Sauer of Heisler, Alberta at Spring Lake, when they came to Camrose to reside.

He leaves his wife, three sons and three daughters, three grandchildren; six brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were held from St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic church. Requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father P. F. Harrington and was assisted by Fr. Hammell and Father Schnitzler of Spring Lake. Monsignor Lyons of Daysland delivered the address. Miss Florence Herman was organist. Solos were sung by Mrs. Matt Hagel and Mr. A. Doucette. Interment took place in the local Roman Catholic cemetery. Pallbearers were: John Long, Frank and James Mohler, F. P. Layton, Dennis Twomey and Chas. J. Duggan.

Beauty Routines Can Assist Nature's Hand

By ALICIA HART

To the girl who wants to know if spending time keeping young-looking is really worth while and why can't she just grow old peacefully and as nature intended anyway:

By all means do grow old peacefully, as peacefully as you can, that is. Nothing makes lines and wrinkles or dims the sparkle in your eyes any more quickly than over-indulgence in emotional outbursts, such as getting frightfully angry over trifles or going in for fits of weeping all too frequently. You don't want to have a face like a mask or be afraid to show real emotion when you feel it, but being too, too emotional too much of the time is even worse on your face and your personality than acting and looking like a stone woman too much of the time.

We're not just sure about nature's intentions, but we do know that she is most of us live way beyond mere maturity. And, since this is true, maybe she'd just as soon have us give her a helping hand so that we will stay as attractive as possible through the years.

And lend a helping hand we must. Lines and wrinkles form all too quickly if skin is not kept soft with cream, protected before over-exposure to cold winds or hot sunshine. Look at the throats of half a dozen older women. It won't be difficult at all to tell which have intelligently pampered their skins, which have just let nature take her course.

If beauty routines keep you young-looking, well-groomed and lovely, then they are worthwhile. If they occupy entirely too much of your time, become your chief topic of conversation, are something for which you neglect reading and conversation which make for real thinking, then they are not worthwhile. One should strike some kind of happy middle ground, doing a few simple things to keep hair shining, skin smooth and as unlined as possible, yet not centering her life around creams and lotions or developing a complex about growing older. There is really much to be said for maturity. And old age, with its wealth of charm, kindness and genuine understanding is wonderful.

Beauty, brains and personality are assets even when they come separately, but Helen Goodwin has all in great measure. Originally a middle westerner, Helen Goodwin came to New York and is now a successful specialty shop executive. Her gorgeous, fluffy, reddish brown hair is worn in a long bob—yet always looks neat. The capricious sparkle in her dark brown eyes adds vitality to her already alive face. She has a slender figure, is medium height, has a fresh, healthful charm.

Egg Proves Puzzled Housewife's Friend

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

When in doubt, cook eggs. They are nuggets of value for your money. They can taste grand when wisely cooked.

EGG AND VEGETABLE DINNER
(4 to 6 servings)

Six eggs, 1 small head cauliflower, 1 lb. long green beans, 4 young carrots, 2 cups fluffy mashed potatoes, light cheese sauce.

Cook eggs slowly, never allowing water to more than simmer, for 12 minutes. Remove from water and peel carefully, keeping eggs very hot. Cook carrots, cauliflower and beans in separate salted waters. Make dry, light and well seasoned mashed potatoes. For cheese sauce, use light cream sauce with Parmesan cheese in moderate amount dusted into it. Use large serving plate which is warm. Place cauliflower in centre, arrange eggs in clusters of 3 at opposite sides of plate, place mounds of potatoes between egg mounds, three on each side, each mound separated from the other and the eggs by a strip of brilliant yellow carrot. Press each potato mound lightly with a spoon to make a small flat surface on which to lay a few of the long green beans. Pour cheese sauce over cauliflower and sprinkle with great restraint with cayenne. Pour browned butter over the other vegetables. And that is a vegetable dinner with strong and valiant character.

For a light supper dish, or for the main dish at dinner, try this seemingly plain combination, and be tastefully surprised.

EGGS AND CHIPPED BEEF
(4 to 6 servings)

One jar chipped beef (3½ ounces) 3 eggs, 1 No. 1 can tomatoes, 1 teaspoon brown sugar, pepper, 1 small white onion, 1-3 cup grated American cheese.

Cut fat and sinews from chipped beef. If very salty, rinse in hot water. Tear meat into small pieces. Combine tomatoes, sugar, grated onion and pepper. Cook in double boiler. Smooth out to even consistency with fork. Then place over direct heat and boil for 10 minutes. Add chipped beef and cheese. Return to double boiler and cook over boiling water until cheese is entirely melted. Beat eggs slightly, then add to mixture. Cook until eggs are scrambled in the hot tomato mixture. Serve on toasted and buttered English muffins.

Tomorrow's Menu

DINNER: Fruit cup, eggs and chipped beef, baked Idaho potatoes, buttered beans, steamed marmalade pudding, hard sauce, coffee, milk.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

DEAR MISS DIX—About two years ago, when I was 32, I went to board with a widow who was at that time 68 years old. From the beginning she seemed to fall in love with me. Gave me the best of everything and showed great preference for me over the other boarders. I made a very small salary and it wasn't long before I got in arrears in my board. She said it made no difference, offered me money, gave me the use of her automobile, bought me clothes, etc. At first her attitude was motherly, but that soon ceased. Made me kiss her, take her on long rides and so forth. Now she is very jealous. Reads my mail. Goes through my pockets. Listens in whenever any one phones me. Has fits if I go out with a girl. I am sick and tired of being a slave to a woman old enough to be my grandmother and I would like to get away, but she has kept an account of every cent she spent on me, and says that if I leave she will tell my boss and cause me to lose my job. If I stay I will never get her paid, for she finds ways of getting me deeper and deeper in debt. How can I get myself out of this mess?

GEORGE.

Answer:

The only thing you can do is just to get up and leave. Summon up your courage and make a clean break with the old woman. Defy her. Even if she does carry out her threat to tell your employer and it costs you your job, you will be better off than you are now.

For you will have taken the first step on the way toward regaining your lost manhood and self-respect, whereas if you let this despicable old creature keep you cowed in submission you will sink deeper and deeper into the pit where she has dragged you. At 24 you are still young enough to get a fresh start and rebuild your life, but if you continue, even for only a year or two, to be a parasite of an old woman, your opportunity will have passed you by. You will be eternally sunk in your own opinion and below contempt in the opinion of others.

Certainly there is no more horrible and repulsive being in the world than the old woman who gets her senile affection on a young boy and who buys him by means of gifts and indulgences and by giving him the money he craves for pleasures until she has got him hopelessly in her debt. Nor is there any venomous serpent more dangerous, for there is no revenge that she will not take when her victim tries to escape her. So my advice to you is to GO. Flee for your life, and do it quickly. It is the only chance of saving yourself.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—What is a young man to do who wants to fall in love and can't do it? I am nearly 25 and go about looking for a girl with whom I can fall desperately in love, but I can't find her. I am not as yet able to marry and don't want to marry just yet, anyway, but I just want to be in love. What is the solution of my problem?

BAFFLED ROMEO.

Answer:

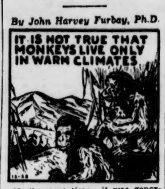

Time. Just wait a little and you will find Juliet hanging over her balcony and giving you the high sign. There is nothing peculiar about your case. You are just in love with love and slushing over with sentiment that you are trying to spill on somebody. Most youngsters of your age are in the same fix, but you are luckier than many of them. For you recognize that you haven't found THE girl yet, and they mistake any girl who happens along for the ONLY ONE.

Inasmuch as you are not in a position to marry, you are fortunate not to be in love. For there is many a heartbreak in being crazy about a girl and not being able to have her because of the price of wedding rings.

DOROTHY DIX.

Debunker

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

Until recent times, it was generally believed that the natural home for monkeys was only in warm, tropical or semitropical jungles. A species has been discovered in the mountains of Central Asia which live in such cold temperatures that it has been named the "monkey of the snows." Dwelling in the bamboo forests just below the perpetual snow line of the mountains, these monkeys have hair six inches long, golden colored, which keeps them warm. They roam about in large troops. Very few of these monkeys have been captured. The Smithsonian Institution obtained one rare specimen in 1934.

Your Children

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Letters from young people invariably interest me. In them I see the results of home conditions and unhappy environment. But another item seldom escapes me, and this is the ability of youth to analyze its own cases and unconsciously reveal a certain self pity.

O. R. Barton

Says one young woman, "I wouldn't marry the best man on earth, after seeing how my father treats my mother. I have been repeatedly warned by my mother that if I married I would be a fool." And then she proceeds to say that her mother was too hard on her, and had planted a fear of men in her heart.

Similar troubled letters come to me. One young girl admits she was spoiled. To even things up, her mother has now resorted to harsh discipline.

It is, of course, the old story of why girls leave home. And why the become introspective and unhappy. Yet I believe there is something to be said about young people themselves, and their share in their own unhappiness.

PATIENCE WITH PARENTS

If they could learn to live with what they have, I think they strip in a measure. If a parent is too unreasonable to understand the natural urges and cravings of these young people, the way is not to antagonize that mother or father, but to conform to a great extent, for in so doing, things are more likely to smooth out than by using open defiance.

If young people are better versed in behavior than their parents, and many are today, it seems that they are in a position to educate the too strict father or the determined mother. Not by trying to tell them or show them their mistakes, for this would be adding fuel to the fire, but by following a willingness to co-operate and working from there.

Once the parent gets the idea that he or she counts with the boy or girl, will be a belief in the good judgment of their offspring, some good is sure to come of it. And all will be happier in the first place, when these young people stop complaining, because many a rift between mother and father is caused by friction originating with the children themselves.

Once I saw a girl, sent to a welfare home by the court, come back, after two years of character training and home economics, and revamp her whole unhappy family. She saw what the trouble had been and took her courage in her hands to make everybody happier and kinder.

UNSELFISH SERVICE

She forgot about herself and dedicated her life to bettering the home of her brothers and sisters. Her mother and father, almost without knowing it, became reasonable and less exacting. This girl married first, of all the family, not because she was bored with home and father, almost without knowing it, became reasonable and less exacting. This girl married first, of all the family, not because she was bent on escape, but because she had proved how fine she was, and young men are alert to quality more often than we admit.

Many, many times it is hopeless to change the shrewish or nervous mother, and the know-it-all father. But escape, even at this, is not the real answer. It may be condoned and even approved, but it leaves the wanderer without a home, and this is bad. I am certain that many times the unhappy girl will be doing a wiser thing by sticking and lending her strength and wisdom to the uplift of her home life.

At top speed, a running horse is completely off the ground one-fourth of the time.

According To Culbertson

By ELY CULBERTSON

For years, I have been writing that players do not fully appreciate the value of that simple word "pass." The national examination further convinced me of this fact.

In every question where "pass" was the correct answer, contestants proved that the bid is a call made only with the greatest reluctance. This observation applies particularly to those situations in which the opponents could be trapped into a disastrous contract. Take question No. 46, for example:

Rubber bridge. You are South, not vulnerable. Opponents are vulnerable. The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 heart	?

♠A♥3 ♥KJ10 ♦7♣ ♠AK5

You, South, hold:

What call do you make over East's one heart bid?

I was so sure that most readers would either double the heart bid or overcall with no trump. But I gave a two point prize for passing, and no demerit for either of the mentioned bids. Of course, the 102 pugnacious individuals who bid two no trump had to be chastised to the tune of two demerits. Only 340 contestents earned the two point reward for making the proper trap pass. Five hundred and seventy-six eight bid no trump and one hundred and fifty-three doubled for a take-out. I had been very careful in laying out South's hand, and in stating the conditions of vulnerability that made a trap pass so attractive. South did not hold so much that he had to fear the next heart bid being passed all around. We all know how lightly opening bids are kept open by the responder. In this case South could see that if West bids even one no trump, the vulnerable opponents are going to be in trouble. If North passes to one no trump and East does likewise, South should make a delayed double, which in itself will be a very strong urge that North pass for penalties. If East chooses to rebid his hearts, or another suit, a highly lucrative penalty should result.

TRUMP HONORS

Trump honors seem to exercise a peculiar fascination over many players!

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 heart	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

North's three heart bid was a stretch, even though there was some logic in the effort to show "better than a preference."

West opened the singleton spade, dummy played low, East split his honors and declarer won with the ace. The singleton club was led toward dummy and the king lost to East's ace. A spade return was ruffed by West, declarer not caring much, since he had a losing spade anyway. West shifted to a trump. Dummy's king won and a club was ruffed. The diamond ace was followed by a diamond ruff, then another club ruffed, and another diamond ruffed with dummy's last trump. The play now was in dummy and the only exit was by a club ruff. East also, opened with ten-ace of clubs and should have ruffed with his blank and, therefore, worthless heart queen. But he had too much fondness for that card. Declarer ruffed and laid down the heart ace, dropping the queen and jack in one fell swoop, discarding a spade in dummy. Dummy's spade and fifth club then were perfectly good for the last two tricks.

East's acknowledged his heart queen had cost, not merely a trick, but two tricks and, thus, the game.

NAVY CHIEF SECONDED FOR CHINA STATION

Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble To Take Charge At Hong Kong

LONDON, Dec. 28—The Admiralty announced last night that Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble, fourth sea lord and chief of supplies and transport, would leave immediately after the holiday to become commander-in-chief of the China station.

Admiral Noble is to go directly to Hong Kong. That colony now is considered the principal danger spot for British interests in the Far East as a Japanese drive is expected against nearby Canton, South China's largest city.

SIX SHIPS NEEDED

Admiralty experts were understood last week to have advised the cabinet six capital ships—battleships or battle cruisers—were necessary for adequate protection of British interests in the Far East.

If the cabinet should approve such a step, it is understood the naval power would be concentrated at Hong Kong.

Hong Kong is the headquarters of the China station and 1,400 miles to the south Britain is building a great naval and air base at Singapore.

Six cruisers, an aircraft carrier, a minelayer, nine destroyers, a submarine flotilla of 17 vessels, five sloops and some 35 boats of lesser size such as the gunboats used on navigable Chinese waters, have been the normal strength based at Hong Kong.

43 YEARS IN NAVY

Admiral Noble, 57 years old, has been in the navy 43 years. In the China station command he will succeed Admiral Sir Charles Little. The change was to have been made in April, but Admiral Little has been ill recently and was temporarily replaced by Rear Admiral L. G. E. Crabbe, commander of the Yangtze river patrol.

The new commander in the Orient is of the rugged athletic type. He served with the Grand Fleet in the Great War. He has been mentioned as a probable Grand Fleet commander of the future.

The change in the Far Eastern command was announced as it was learned Japan had completed her reply to the British note of protest against attacks on the Yangtze river patrol Dec. 11 and 12, when the gunboats Ladybird and three other British ships came under Japanese fire.

Life Is Granted

TRENTON, N.J., Dec. 28. — Mrs. Margaret Fox Dolbow and Norman Driscoll won Monday their two-year fight to escape death in New Jersey's 30-year-old electric chair for the axe slaying of Mrs. Dolbow's husband when the state court of pardons commuted their death sentences to life imprisonment.

SCHOOL BULWARK FOR DEMOCRACY, SPEAKER STATES

WINNIPEG, Dec. 28.—Education is a bulwark against dictatorship, President Sidney Smith of Manitoba university Monday told 350 delegates to the national conference of Canada university students as sessions opened here.

"Education is the backbone of our democracy and enables full development to be made in all our ideals," Dr. Smith said. "In its true form it is a bulwark against dictatorship since it is concerned with the skeptical approach; and in order to have toleration we must have a certain amount of skepticism."

The conference, under chairmanship of Neil Morrison of McGill university, Montreal, was described as the first gathering of students representative of all racial, religious and political groups in the Dominion. Every campus in Canada is represented.

Dr. Smith believed the student conference could further Canadian solidarity. "If this generation can get away from provincialism and establish the spirit of national unity as foreseen by the Fathers of Confederation then it will do more than my generation has done. If you would, you could go out and in 10 years re-make Canada and with your assurance qualities of zest and zeal achieve ideal results."

From three to five tons of old, worn and soiled currency is destroyed by the Treasury Department of the United States daily.

Cigarettes Keen Taste Of One Person in Four

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 28.—After two cigarettes the sense of taste gets temporarily keener in about one person in four, while for the other three taste is dulled.

This discovery, which turned up unexpectedly during studies of heredity, was reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science here Monday by Ada Hall of Wellesley College and Dr. Albert F. Blakeslee of the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

The experiment was tried on about 60 persons. They went nine hours without a smoke. Then they smoked two cigarettes and tasted a bit of phenyl-thiocarbamide.

NASTY STUFF

This stuff tastes bad, worse than quinine. But it is useful for measuring the sense of taste because people can recognize it in small amounts, so that it makes the perfect taste yardstick.

The after-effects of the cigarette smoking were always temporary. They were not very pronounced. Some people noticed them more than others. Men and women were equally affected.

ONLY ONE BRAND

Dr. Blakeslee said only one brand of cigarettes had been tried—one of the cheaper and most widely used. He explained that the quality of the cigarette probably had nothing much to do with the effects on taste.

The differences, either direction, were apparently mostly a matter of heredity. Some people have sense of taste many times keener than others; things that taste sweet to some are sour to others. Studies which began several years ago have traced nearly all these differences to inheritance.

The experiment showed, said Dr. Blakeslee, that even cigarette smokers who sit side by side, smoking the same brand, may not "live in the same world."

Extra! Dog Shoots Man

Everyone knows that when a dog bites a man, it's not news. But when a dog shoots a man with a 12-gauge shotgun, that's news, and it may sound very comical to everyone but Cecil Parthemer, 31, inset, who is fighting for life in a Warren, O., hospital, and his dog, Queen, the remorseful beagle shown above with the fateful weapon on her master's bed. Parthemer rested his gun on a fence while hunting. The dog jumped up and touched the trigger with her paw, sending a full charge of wadding and shot into Parthemer's chest and armpit.

JAPAN BUDGET MADE TO HELP WAR IN CHINA

TOKYO, Dec. 28—The 1938-39 Japanese budget bill, distributed to members of parliament last night, is based primarily on requirements of the China hostilities and on limitation of general consumption of materials and funds needed for military purposes.

The diet adjourned until Jan. 21 after both houses adopted votes of thanks to the Japanese forces operating in China. War minister General Hajime Sugiyama and navy minister Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai accepted in the name of the army and navy.

PUNISH CHINA

Both houses also adopted addresses in reply to the speech from the throne, and recorded their "grim determination" to attain the ultimate objective of "the punitive expedition against China, with tenacity of purpose and solid national unity."

After the ordinary budget bill was distributed, a government spokesman explained it had been drawn up "with a view to coping efficiently with the situation arising from long-term hostilities so as to attain the objective of the punitive expedition against China, by meeting military requirements in materials and funds and limiting general consumption of those materials and funds which will be required for military purposes."

Shirt Shrinking Patent Upheld

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—Mr. Justice A. K. MacLean Monday gave judgment in the exchequer court upholding validity of patents of Cluett, Peabody and Company on the preshrinking of shirt fabrics. Action of the company was against Dominion Textile Company, alleging patent infringement and asking for a declaration that the patents were valid and as to the plaintiffs' rights to maintain them.

Man Without Country Was Born But Can't Say Where

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 28.—Unable to prove his birthplace, a "man without a country" sought legal loopholes Monday whereby he could provide a home in the United States for his wife and four-year-old daughter.

Fate so far has blocked every move of Milton B. Agnew, 37, to bring his family here from Toronto.

The maze of legal technicalities separating the family centres on one requirement — that Agnew prove he is a United States citizen.

Agnew was born Aug. 9, 1910, to parents who formerly lived in Rochester. He was adopted in 1911 by Mr. and Mrs. Simon H. Agnew of Rochester. During his childhood he lived in Pittsford, Johnstown, and Portage, Pa., returning here shortly after he was graduated from high school. In 1930 he went to Toronto, where he was married in 1932.

A year ago Agnew returned to Rochester, where he obtained a new position, but immigration authorities would not permit his wife and child to accompany him.

Mrs. Agnew was born in Germany, but became a British subject when her father was naturalized in Canada. But Mrs. Agnew cannot enter the United States as a Canadian citizen because she is a native of Germany in the eyes of the law, her husband said.

Agnew's search for the legal loophole which will enable his family to join him led to the health bureau, but his birth certificate and adoption papers do not contain the country of his birth, he said.

He is unable to take out naturalization papers here, for in order to do that he also must have proof of his birthplace.

RUSSIA AND CHINA BOND IS TIGHTER

Arrival Of New Soldier Ambassador Believed Significant

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Foreign Staff

HANKOW, China, Dec. 28—Foreign diplomats Monday saw in the arrival of the new Soviet ambassador to China, a soldier rather than a diplomat, indications that closer military relations between China and Russia were in prospect.

Ivan Luganets-Orelsky, 38 years old, with the shortest diplomatic experience of any foreign envoy in this temporary capital of China, arrived Sunday by airplane from Lanchow, capital of Manau province in China's far northwest.

EARLY MEETING

Arrangements were in progress for an early meeting with China's leader, General Chiang Kai-Shek, at the latter's headquarters at an undisclosed spot in the mid-Yangtze valley.

Of particular interest to other diplomats was the fact that Luganets-Orelsky was several weeks on his journey from Moscow to Hankow, apparently spending much time along the great continental highway from Russian Turkestan across Chinese Turkestan (Sinkiang) and Kansu, along which any material Russia aid for China must flow.

KNOWS CHINA

It was learned the new ambassador's only previous diplomatic experience was gained while vice-consul at Urumchi. Therefore he already was familiar with China's northwest.

He has held several administrative posts in the Soviet Union and also has commanded units of the red army. It was as a comparatively unknown military man that he was chosen to succeed the veteran diplomat, Dmitri V. Bogomoloff, recalled last month from the China post.

Epidemic Of Measles Among Indians Under Control

Edmonton Resident 50 Years, Mrs. MacKay Fetes 80th Birthday

Widow of Dr. W. M. MacKay, Former Hudson's Bay Company Physician, Hale and Hearty Despite Her Years

Surrounded by children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, Mrs. W. M. MacKay of 9720 111 street, on Tuesday celebrated her eightieth birthday, hale and hearty, as she was when she came here 50 years ago. Mrs. MacKay has been an Edmonton resident since her first arrival here from the north with her husband, who for many years was physician to the Hudson's Bay Company.

Asked for the secret of her perennial youth, vivacity and enjoyment of life, she replied "It must be because I have so many young people around me."

BORN IN NORTHLAND

Mrs. MacKay was born at La Pierre's House, a Hudson's Bay post in the northland, on Dec. 28, 1857. She is the daughter of James Flett who came out from the Orkney Islands in 1843 and settled at York Factory.

In 1874 she was married to Dr. W. M. MacKay, a young physician who was then one of the few medical practitioners in this part of the country.

After some years spent in the north country, Dr. MacKay was appointed physician to the Hudson's Bay Company in this city and the young couple moved here in 1887.

They settled at the corner of what are now 100 street and 99 avenue. The latter thoroughfare was named "MacKay Avenue" in honor of Doctor MacKay, who built the brick residence now standing on the northwest corner of the intersection of these streets.

SCHOOL NAMED

The MacKay avenue school was named after him and in perpetuating the MacKay tradition there, no fewer than three generations of the family have attended the school.

At present a great-granddaughter of Dr. MacKay, Shirley Wilson, who is also a granddaughter of Walter P. Wilson, manager of the Capitol theatre, is the family representative at the MacKay avenue school.

FIVE GENERATIONS

There are five generations of the MacKay family living.

Mrs. MacKay has 13 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Her husband died on Feb. 25, 1917, since which time she has continued her residence here, living quietly, but continuing her good work in the community, an activity she commenced soon after arrival here.

Mrs. MacKay has seven children, W. D. MacKay of this city; Mrs. Margaret Agnes Olson, Mrs. Mary Louise Harley, Mrs. Harriet Roy, Mrs. Eirene Sladden, all of this city, Mrs. Florence Alexandrich of Vancouver, and Miss Ethel at home.

Pioneer

MRS. W. M. MacKAY

Celebrating her 80th birthday and 50 years residence in this city is Mrs. W. M. MacKay, who finds that perennial good health is aided by having young people around her. She has been the recipient of many congratulatory messages.

The Inquiring Reporter

War clouds are growing darker over Europe and Asia. All the nations of the world are preparing feverishly for conflict. International idealists are still hoping that some "way out" will be found and that peace will be restored.

"How do you think this can be accomplished?" asked The Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter today.

Here is how some Edmontonians answered:

GEORGE HINDE, radio operator: My dear friend—there will never be peace in the world. Look back upon your history and you will see that there has never been peace. It is foolish to think that there ever will be.

* * *

K. MacLEAN, secretary: I am so busy trying to keep peace in this office that I haven't time to worry about the rest of the world.

TED WILLIAMS, student: The League of Nations and the world court have failed because they lacked the power to enforce their decrees. For similar reasons other treaties, expected to ensure peace, have turned out to be but worthless scraps of paper. Mankind knows but one master and that is force. If the United States of America, the British Empire, Russia and France, the nations of the world who seek peace, would form a league among themselves, would pool their resources and their manpower, they would be strong enough to enforce the peace of the world. It is my belief that world affairs within the next year or so will force them to take such a step. Then people may learn to think peace.

MORTON FIRTH, student: Nothing will bring peace to the world except education. The radio and the airplane, by bringing all peoples of the world together, and the spread of the principles of economics and common sense will soon show people the futility of war—that is—if greed and selfishness do not destroy the world first.

GARAGE, TWO CARS LOST IN NIGHT BLAZE

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a frame building, used as a garage, situated at 11535 85A street, and two automobiles that it contained, shortly before midnight Monday.

The building was owned by Stanley Hylands of the above address. He son Howard, 20, was burned about the face when he attempted to push one of the cars from the blazing building. He failed in the attempt and both cars were destroyed. The new car was insured, the older model was not.

Firemen from No. 5 firehall, led by Deputy Chief Jim Macgregor, responded to the alarm sent in by a neighbor, M. McElroy, 11531 95A street, who saw the flames.

The flames had too good a start in the frame building to be stopped, and firemen used one hose and one line of chemicals to keep the fire from spreading. The intense cold made the work of fire-fighting dangerous and difficult.

City Firemen Again Answer Call For Blood

City firemen were called upon for blood donations again Monday —this time to help a 15-year-old crippled boy, Gordon McCready, a ward of the provincial government, at present in the Misericordia hospital.

The call for volunteers was answered by firemen Capt. Jake Smith, A. Campbell, J. Manson, C. T. Keil, E. Zurch and E. G. Williams. A test of the six showed that Campbell's blood matched that of the sick boy, so he gave the transfusion. The youth was reported as much better Tuesday.

LAD, 15, FINDS MONEY BLOWING AROUND MARKET

Honesty is the best policy, according to Harold Brown, 15-year-old city youth, who found a sum of money blowing around the Market Square Tuesday morning. He took the money to the police station, where it is being held by police. The owner of the money may have it provided he can describe it to the police, Sergeant George Edwards, on desk duty, said.

Here as a periodic inspection visit, G. C. Cumming, Winnipeg, general manager of the Monarch Life Insurance Co., Ltd., registered at the Macdonald hotel Tuesday. He is now on an annual trip taking him from the maritime provinces to western Canada. He leaves for Calgary Monday night.

KNOTT QUERIES TRAFFIC LIGHT AT 100 STREET

Would Cost $400 To Instal —Tram Stop Signal Also Proposed

Replying to a question by Ald. Daniel K. Knott on the feasibility of installing stop-and-go traffic lights at the intersection of Jasper and 100 street, similar to those in operation at the 101 street corner, City Engineer A. W. Haddow reports that the city has a spare set of lights which could be installed at the suggested location at a cost of $400. Annual maintenance and operation would cost $100.

Also reporting on this proposal, Police Chief A. G. Shute states that in his opinion use of traffic lights at the 100 street corner would cause some confusion owing to the fact that a left turn at the intersection is now permitted. Motorists are not allowed to make a left turn at 101 street and Jasper.

TRAFFIC COUNT

A traffic count taken at the 100 street corner on September 10 last recorded a total of 17,164 vehicles and 13,982 pedestrians crossing the intersection. Figures for the 101 street corner on the same date were 21,331 vehicles and 51,190 pedestrians.

Another proposal by Ald. J. T. McCrath that stop lights be installed at the rear of street cars to warn motorists when trams are coming to a stop would cost about $2,800 if the 70 trams in service carried this equipment, it is reported.

13 ACCIDENTS

In this connection, Street Railway Supt. Thomas Ferrier states: "In checking over our accident records we find that from January to date this year there were only 13 instances where motor vehicles crashed into the rear end of street cars. In four of these cases the street car was equipped with stop lights (which is standard equipment on the last five trams purchased by the city) and eight of these 13 accidents occurred during daylight hours. It would therefore appear that this expenditure is not warranted."

13 BELOW IN EDMONTON, 57 AT FORT SMITH

While Edmonton sweltered in a mild 13 below Tuesday morning (comparatively speaking, of course) Fort Smith away up there on the Slave River experienced chilly weather—57 degrees below zero, as a matter of fact. Earmuffs are in demand in the north country today, Simpson registering 52 below, Mayo, 46; Lower Post 46; Norman, 46; and Dawson and Aklavik both 44.

Intermittent light snow started falling at 8 p.m. Monday, the fall continuing Tuesday for a total depth of 04 inches up to 9 a.m.

Continued cold is the forecast for Edmonton and district.

Monday's mean temperature was 16.15 below, the mean reading for the corresponding date last year being five above. The barometer reading at 9 a.m. Tuesday was 27.89 unsteady.

The sun rises at 8:50 a.m. Wednesday and sets at 4:22 p.m.

Santa Claus was host to 250 children, sons and daughters of Imperial Veterans in Edmonton and district, at the association's headquarters, Queen's hotel, Monday after noon.

The club rooms were gaily decorated with Christmas favors, and a magnificently decorated tree was the centre of attraction for the large number of girls and boys.

All children received presents, packages of candy and fruit, and as they were leaving the hall at the conclusion of a concert, they were given further supplies of sweets and fruit, just to cap off a swell afternoon's entertainment.

Chief A. G. Shute addressed the children briefly, and thanked them for their co-operation in preventing street accidents; he also brought them Christmas greetings from members of the city police force.

At intervals during the afternoon ice cream, sandwiches and soft drinks were served.

The following artists assisted in the entertainment: Betty Freeman and May Doray, dances and songs; Daphne Christenson, song and dance; Leora Niddrie and Gwen Parsons, dances; Mrs. J. H. Faulkner, reading; Jack and Jeffrey Ratcliffe, comic act, and Michael Chapman, harmonica solo.

POLICE REPLY TO S.O.S. FROM MAYOR'S OFFICE

Raiding Mayor John W. Fry's Civic Block office—regarded as the sanctum sanctorum in city hall circles—two police force stalwarts gave the mayor a big surprise and two newspapermen an odd-night story shortly before noon Tuesday.

The story's soon told. Recounting their experiences over the Christmas holiday, Mayor Fry and the reporters were suddenly interrupted by the rapid arrival of Detective Frank Kingcott and Constable Claude Bumstead, of the city police force.

"Anything up, Mr. Mayor?" they gasped, eyeing the newspapermen suspiciously.

"No. Was there supposed to be something up?" parried the mayor.

"Your emergency police buzzer sounded at headquarters, so we hurried right over," Detective Kingcott explained, while Constable Bumstead inspected the police signal button which connects the mayor's office with the station.

"Must have gone off by mistake. I didn't touch it," laughed the mayor.

After a few minutes' deliberation, concensus of opinion among all present was that the button had been jarred and made a contact.

The mayor thanked the officers for their prompt response, everybody had a good laugh and the incident closed on a friendly note.

Mackenzie Air Service reported Tuesday that pilot Bob Randall arrived in Edmonton late Monday afternoon with a load of mail and express and one passenger, John Lundquist, of Yellowknife. Stan McMillan and Archie McMullen were en route for Aklavik with the mail after having been stormbound for eight days at Simpson.

Doctor Flown Into Fond Du Lac After Word Sent For Aid

Dr. Head, of Fort Chipewyan, After Five Days' Work Reports Situation Well in Hand in Northern Saskatchewan

Gallant, single-handed battle against an epidemic of measles at Fond Du Lac, Sask., was fought and won by Dr. M. Head, Indian department medical officer, stationed at Fort Chipewyan, according to North Sawle, Canadian Airways pilot who guided his giant plane into the Edmonton airport late on Monday.

Five days incessant, unremitting work, with sleepless nights and without medical support, enabled Dr. Head to arrest the progress of the measles epidemic and finally force into retreat.

According to Pilot Sawle, the measles broke out among the Indian population at Fond du Lac, which is situated in Northern Saskatchewan and word was carried to Dr. Head, at Fort Chipewyan.

Dr. Head contacted Sawle, who flew the medical practitioner over to the stricken area.

Five days the doctor labored and finally got control of the epidemic and was enabled to return to Chipewyan last Thursday, the day before Christmas.

FINE WORK

Pilot Sawle reported that Dr. Head's work had been exceptionally fine.

It is also reported that Norville Small is at Yellowknife doing charter work.

VISITOR SAYS BUSINESS IN ENGLAND GOOD

England now is enjoying a "normal recovery" in business activity and not an artificial boom, according to Col. M. E. Lindsay of Dairsie, Scotland, chairman of the board of directors of Mountain Park Collieries, who returned from Great Britain about three weeks ago.

Quoting various authorities in support of his contention, the mining executive said that armament work was only partly responsible for this stimulus to business.

There is no "rearmament program" proceeding in England, Col. Lindsay declared as he suggested that what is taking place is simply a "modernization of old equipment and replacement of worn out ships by new ones."

"People in Canada always seem to be talking about war, but over in Europe I don't think they are nearly as much worried about the advent of any major catastrophe," he advised.

Turning to a discussion of Social Credit, Col. Lindsay remarked that, "the average Britisher does not think about the Alberta experiment and the average British investor definitely does not like it."

Explaining that work at Mountain Park Collieries was continuing at a "normal pace," Col. Lindsay said he could make no announcement at the moment concerning expansionist activity by the company he heads.

Struggling Along Victory Road

Every veteran who toiled toward the front lines along the troop-congested, shell torn roads of France will be carried back to World War days by this glimpse of the Japanese army on the move near Shanghai. As far as the eye can see are soldiers and supply trains. Pack horses are loaded down with boxes of machine gun ammunition, caissons are piled high with provisions and munitions. And consider the lot of the soldiers who drag along the broken down motorcycle and sidecar at left.

CITY'S FIRST FIRE CHIEF IS 87 ON TUESDAY

George P. Sanderson Came To Edmonton In 1879 From Prince Albert

First fire-chief of this city, life member of the Northern Alberta Pioneers and Old Timers Association and one of this city's earliest business men, George P. Sanderson, 11814 94 street, is receiving congratulations on having just attained his 87th birthday.

Mr. Sanderson came here in 1879 from Prince Albert, Sask., and from his earliest days here had business associations with The Bulletin.

Hale and hearty Mr. Sanderson spent his birthday with his son and daughter-in-law who are visiting the city from Peace River.

An expert locksmith, Mr. Sanderson only in recent years began to relax from his efforts and he has engaged a junior member of his staff, as an intermediary with the public.

This junior member's duty is to transport Mr. Sanderson, who, for 45 years has been opening safes and anything else with locks on them, to and from work.

Mr. Sanderson is still looking for the lock combination that can beat him, and his headquarters at the Saskatoon Welding works contain a fine collection of trophies in this regard.

SPORT BULLETINS

Crimson Tide Rolls Toward Another Rose Bowl Game

For the fifth year, Alabama's Crimson Tide are rolling toward the great football classic of the year, the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, Calif. This year's Alabama team is the highest power-driver sent west by the university, yet it is probably the strongest defensive squad in all its long history of super football teams. On their four previous trips to the Bowl, they defeated Stanford, Washington, Washington State and tied Stanford in 1927, thus piling up the best record of any invading team. In the above layout, several of their outstanding stars, who will watch their strategy against California's Golden Bears, are shown.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Chapman Rises

Has Title Hope

Wild Englishmen

ANOTHER Edmonton fighter is in the national spotlight today. He is Jimmy Chapman who battles Mog Mason, Tommy Farr's protege, tonight in Toronto. Jimmy has been doing his fighting at Vancouver, but was called to Toronto by Jack Allen, matchmaker for Promoter Corcoran. He has high hopes that if he can defeat Mason he will get a crack at Baby Yack, the bantam champ of eastern Canada.

Jimmy Chapman is recognized as the western champion by the Western Canada Boxing Federation. While the title descended on him more or less through lack of competitors, he has nevertheless shown enough class to warrant him wearing the crown. He is the oldest of the three fighting Chapmans, having just passed his 19th birthday. Jimmy started fighting as an amateur here when he weighed only 70 pounds and many fans will recall the rousing battles he staged in the Memorial Hall. In 1931 and 1932 he held the Alberta title in the 70-pound class, in 1933 and 1934 he held the provincial crown in the 80-pound division and in 1935 and 1936 he was the Alberta champ in the 118-pound class. He turned pro at Vancouver in 1936.

His pro record includes five fights with Jackie Paseo at Vancouver, three of them he won and two were drawn. He scored a kayoe victory over Morey Stein of Montreal, drew with Miller of Ladysmith, B.C., decisioned Bomber Bailey of Portland, drew with Ray Villa of Seattle and lost by a kayoe to Orienti of Seattle.

It's a fine family of fighting lads that Sammy Chapman boasts. Three of his boys are in the ring wars and all three have won provincial championships in the amateur game. Sammy Junior turned pro here this month and has shown real promise in his first two monied fights. The third boy, Pete, is still an amateur. He held the Alberta crown in the 118-pound division for 1935 and 1936 and advanced to the 90-pound title in 1937.

Jimmy Chapman will have to look impressive against Mason to win a crack at Yack for half a dozen other bantams are jockeying just now for that opportunity. Chief among the clamorers are Jackie Callura, Jackie Armstrong and Frankie Martin, former holder of the title. Without an outstanding heavy in either Toronto or Montreal, the promoters have fallen back on the little fellows. The Farr-Mason battle is fixed between six and seven thousand dollars, but the promoters are confident that the gate can be built up to a much higher figure.

New Ball Loop Plays to 500,000

LAST spring the Western International Baseball League was launched with teams from various points in Washington, Idaho and British Columbia. At the annual meeting in Seattle the other day the directors declared themselves satisfied that on the whole the loop was on a sound foundation and ready for a better season in 1938. The total paid attendance for 1937 was approximately 500,000—a fairly satisfactory figure.

One or two shifts in the lineup have been made. Lewiston did not do so well, so plans to transfer its franchise to Bellingham have been announced. This is being fought, however, by the Lewiston chamber of commerce which will appeal to Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Baseball Leagues. Charles Garland has bought the controlling interest in the Wenatchee Chiefs, the team that won the first half of the schedule this year. No drastic shake-up is contemplated.

What Ails These Blokes?

LAST night a crowd of wild English hockey fans broke into Empress Hall in London to see Earl's Court Rangers play Harringay Racers. (What a name for a hockey team!) After the game ended the crowd swarmed out on the ice and it took officials an hour to clear it. Blime, that's not cricket. That's the fighting mob spirit that English hockey officials are trying so desperately to rule out of Canadian lads who learned the game under two-footed conditions. Can it be that the fans in England like a spot of fighting just as much as they do here or anywhere else? When the fans act like that they can hardly blame the players for a little beak-busting in the heat of a battle.

Bay Beavers Hold Capitals to 5-5 In Intermediate Boxing Day Clash

Dave Foster Is Rugged Blockade on Bay Defence; Capital Forwards Appear "Lazy" on Attack at Times

By KEN MATHERAL

CAPITALS' drive toward leadership of the Northern Alberta Intermediate Hockey League was slowed up yesterday afternoon as they were held to a 5-5 draw by a surprisingly strong Hudson's Bay sextet at Varsity arena.

Husky Dave Foster's work on the Bay defense and his dazzling rushes proved the spark plug of the black and white squad. He left his rear guard position to score once and paved the way for another marker. The Bay team looked better than the Capital squad but forwards were too slow in backchecking.

Play opened at a scintillating clip in the first period as first Capitals and then Bay players took the puck into the opposing defense. Neither team had an edge until the half-way mark was reached, when a penalty to Lemieux paved the way to a Bay goal. Gannon finished off a power play to beat Mottershead in the Capital net. Capitals evened the count late in the period as Eldridge finished off Harrawes pass to make the score read 1-1.

TEAMWORK GOOD

Capitals opened the middle canto with a sparkling display of teamwork, Soley receiving a penalty to give the packers the extra man advantage. Brant worked the puck past the Bay defense to pass to Lemieux, who made no mistake as he beat Lupul with a hard shot. The packing plant boys came back five minutes later to make the score 3-1 as Horne took Taylor's pass to score. Capitals boosted their margin to three goals as Graham and Masher combined less than a minute later to score Capitals' fourth goal.

The Bay crew became desperate as the Capital total kept mounting, and put on a sustained power play that kept the rubber in Capitals' end of the rink for the remainder of the period. Their efforts were finally rewarded as Donald finished off a pretty bit of stick-handling to beat Mottershead and bring the score to 4-2.

The players, who had up to the start of the final session, given thought to the Christmas spirit of peace and goodwill, suddenly forgot their fine resolutions and began roughing things up so that Referee Pete Rule was forced to hand out five free tickets to the cooler. Graham and Brant drew the first penalties as they were banished for high-sticking one another. While both teams were a man short, Dave Foster cut down Capitals' lead as he took Gannon's pass to bring the count to 4-3.

ICE SOFT GOAL

While Soley of the black and white squad resided in the cooler, Graham let go a long shot from the blue line that Lupul handled carelessly and it landed in the net. Foster came right back for the Bay team as he soloed through the Capitals to circle their goal, come out in front and score.

The black and white team evened the score at the fourteen minute mark as Canly scored. Hoyle assisted on the play. Neither team were able to score in the dying moments of play. The overtime session also resulted in no score although Capitals were kept on the defensive by the fast-skating Bay team.

Munro, Green and Kelly.

BUDGE OBJECTS TO CRITICISM AFTER LOSING

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 28—Criticism broke today around the ears of Don Budge, who lazily permitted Germany's Baron Gottfried Von Cramm to beat him 6-1, 6-3 in an exhibition tennis match.

Don Budge

A record crowd of 10,000 was dumbfounded by the stream of erratic tennis that bounced off Budge's racquet.

The sports editor of the Herald wrote:

"Budge acted as if he was not interested, was careless, lacked concentration and seemed to treat the match as a joke. But it wasn't a joke to the spectators who paid as much as $7.50 to see the world a champion in action."

Preceding the Budge-Cramm match, Jack Bromwich of Australia turned back Heinrich Henkel of Germany, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4 in the first match of an International series between Australia and Germany.

GOLDEN BEARS MOVE TO SITE OF BOWL GAME

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 28—California's Golden Bears moved into Pasadena Monday near the climax of a gridiron victory parade that started last Fall and moved with clock-like precision to the Rose Bowl.

Hundreds cheered the Blue and Gold of the Berkeley lads as they bumbled off the classic Big Ten champion of the far Western United States football, but with triumphant memories of the regular 1937 season pushed aside for the moment, the Bears presented a combination of high glee and deep seriousness as they looked forward to the Alabama game New Year's Day.

The Bears were hustled to their first practice on the Rose Bowl front. Head Coach Leonard (Stub) Allison ordered a snappy workout and got it.

On another practice field Coach Frank Thomas, Alabama's squatty little head man, sent the tide through a stiff drill. Reports from both camps said the squads were in good condition.

Motormen In Lead Until Miner Rally In Dying Moments

Both Teams Weakened as Anderson, Bentley Out of Action; Dominions Flash Good Combination Early in Game

DRUMHELLER, Dec. 28.—With both teams playing with a weakened lineup, Edmonton Dominions and Drumheller Miners played to a 6-6 tie in a thrilling overtime game here Monday night. Dominions skated on the ice minus Jimmy Anderson who suffered injurics at Olds Saturday. Miners were short Scoop Bentley.

The game belonged to the Motormen until well into the third period. Miners playing an inferior brand of hockey until, with backs to the wall, they battled for equalizing goals. While the Gustason-coached squad chalked up the first tally of the game in the opening frame, Dominions were giving a fine exhibition of first class combination play while Goalie Layetzke likewise was turning in a good game between the posts.

Babe Heming netted for the Miners while Dominions were one man short. Palmer is having earned a penalty for tripping.

GET THREE FAST ONES

Dominions opened the second frame with three quick counters, while Bob Kennedy was taking a two-minute spell in the coop. Darkes registered the first tally from McLeod's pass while Bud Wolfe was recovering, Purcell following with a swift shot from Lefty Grove's pass. Grove added the third counter from Purcell's pass, all scored inside the two and a half minute mark. Grove slammed home a neat fourth goal to send Dominions into a commanding position half way through the frame only to see the Kennedy-Gustason duo reduce that lead by two goals within the last two minutes.

GOT SECOND WIND

Half way through the third, Gauf landed a neat counter with Wolfe out of position, whereupon Miners got their second wind and bored in with a succession of pressure plays which kept Dominion defencemen and Layetzke on their toes. Bill Wright finally sent in a bullet-like shot from the blue line to place the Miners one goal down. Max Bentley rang up the tieing counter in an inspired play with brother Roy and Kennedy assisting, less than 90 seconds before the siarais closed.

Both teams worked to a standstill in the overtime period, Grove notching for the Dominions only to see Max Bentley again tie the score a minute later.

LINEUPS:

DOMINIONS: Layetzke; Wismer, Klingspoon; Grove, Purcell, Andy Anderson; Darkes, McLeod, Gauf.

Rangers Cop Calgary Game Defeating Bronks by 5-3 Score

CALGARY, Dec. 28. — Calgary Rangers defeated Calgary Bronks 5-3 here last night in an Alberta Senior Six Hockey League fixture to keep their record of no defeats intact. They got away to a whirlwind start in the first stanza with a three-goal lead which Bronks could not equal. Joe Shannon led the Rangers scorers with two, and Hill, Doug. French and Wilbie Lennox bagged one each. Bill Morrison, Les Moss and Shamlock were the marksmen for Bronks.

FAIRLY EASE ONE

One of his own players was blocking the goalie when Shannon let beat him for the first goal of the initial session, Hill and French exchanged passes and Hill scored on his own rebound after three attempts. French and Watt engineered the third tally with Watt doing the scoring. Peter Paul was banished for ten minutes during the session for arguing with the referee.

Bill Morrison got the only tally of the middle stanza when he scored on Bronks on a pass from Joe Thompson.

Shannon opened the third frame scoring when he registered on a pass from French. Wilbie Lennox added another on a lone play. A penalty by Les Moss was good for a scoring point for Bronks. Shamlock finished the scoring when he slapped in Jiber Cameron's pass.

JACK DOYLE LISTS SMART MONEY BETS

Broadway Jack Rated Most Qualified; Has Good Record In Past

By PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—Broadway Jack Doyle, 61-year-old betting commissioner, presented Monday the lineup which the "smart money" will follow down the sports trail of 1938.

No man could be better qualified than Broadway Jack. He hasn't been out-foxed in the betting since Boston Braves won the pennant back in 1914 with their miracle men—and even then got out of the way just in time by selling all his bets on the team to the late Arnold Rothstein.

AS DOYLE RATES 'EM

This, according to the shrewd Mr. Doyle, is how the smart dough will ride over the hill and past the poorhouse in 1938:

BASEBALL—In the American League, New York Yankees will go postward at 3 to 5, shortest priced favorite in big league history. The down-trodden St. Louis Browns will be 300 to 1. Broadway Jack said the crystal ball wasn't so clear in the National League because Pitcher Van Lingle Mungo hasn't been sold yet. If either New York Giants or Chicago Cubs get him, they'll win the pennant.

World champion Yankees? Without even looking at the crystal globe, Broadway Jack said the Yankees were "in".

FIGHTS—In case you've forgotten, it was the same Mr. Doyle who got everybody along Broadway laughing when he picked Max Schmeling to flatten Joe Louis between the 10th and 15th round. This time, Mr. Doyle picks Schmeling again—somewhere between the 10th and 15th rounds.

ADMITS CONFUSION

GOLF—Jack admits utter confusion when it comes to golfers. But he fore'saw victory for either Sam Snead, Ralph Guldahl, Harry Cooper, Jimmy Thomson or Dick Metz in the United States open, a repeat for Johnny Goodman in the United States amateur and an upset triumph for Beatric Barrett of Minneapolis in the women's United States competition.

TENNIS—Bobby Riggs and Don Budge will fight it out for tennis laurels after Australian Adrian defends the Davis Cup. Budge will win and then turn professional for Kayo.

FOOTBALL — Even the Bowl games didn't escape Mr. Doyle's trained eye. In succession, he picked California, Louisiana State, Rice, Auburn and Texas Tech. He saw victory for the East in the East-West Charity game. College crumpaign? "Simple," he said. "Always take Pittsburgh and never bet against Notre Dame in any one game."

HORSES—Winner of the Kentucky Derby will be Fighting Fox.

Hatch To Quit Winter Racing

TORONTO, Dec. 28—Decision of Harry C. Hatch of Toronto, internationally known turfman, to retire from racing for the winter at least and sell his horses now campaigning in California, was announced here last night.

Herbert Hatch, his brother, said, however, the horseman would carry on as usual on Canadian tracks. He listed Goldburg, Grater, Caracole, Suffern and eight two-year-olds which would be sporting the double blue silks next season.

Novel Worm Catcher

Record Number of Rinks In Travellers' Bonspiel

WITH 29 rinks competing, the largest entry on record, the annual bonspiel of the Commercial Travellers got off to a flying start Monday night at the Edmonton Curling club.

The 'spiel is being run off on a-round-robin draw in four sections. The two rinks with the highest percentage in each section will advance into the Blue Ribbon event. The next two highest in each section go into the secondary, while the remainder enter the consolation.

It is hoped that play will be completed by Thursday night when the travellers will hold their banquet in the Rudonia.

PROLITES POP FOR 4-2 WIN OVER WESLEYS

Lloydminster Crew Has Wide Margin in Play Over Saskatoon

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

LLOYDMINSTER, Dec. 28—Speed and fighting desperation failed to carry the Saskatoon Wesleys to victory in their Boxing Day hockey attraction here against the local Prolites when they were outscored 4-2.

The locals took possession of the game right from the commencement of play and after a minute of hockey Kinney took Lawrence's pass for the first count. The hub city boys put on plenty of pressure and the fast end to end play pleased the holiday crowd.

Duffield picked his own rebound to put the Prolites two up but just as the period was ending Kunkel and Murray combined to cut the lead in half.

TIED UP GAME

Saskatoon came out fighting for the middle stanza and soon had the game tied up, Lavery putting a hot one past Killen. Three penalties were handed out by Referee Carmichael and both the teams failed to take advantage of their added man-power.

Spencer broke the deadlock when he blasted the puck home after Kinney had stick-handled from his own defence area and given a pass near the goal mouth. The score was doubled when Kinney, the local defence player, caught his own rebound and beat Badyk with a hot shot.

Although the last period was crammed full with fast hockey and many brilliant attempts by the Weslys to reduce the lead, no goals were scored. The Prolites played careful hockey and gave Killen, the youthful goalie, plenty of support. For the last five minutes the visitors played every man up but the stalwart defence and persistent back-checking of the forwards kept them at bay.

Les Rendell of the Prolites tried out a new combination of players for this game, transferring Frank Spencer to the second string, which gave them added strength and playing Waldenbreg in defence. Hallet on either side by McIvor brothers.

LINEUPS:

Saskatoon Wesleys: Goal, M. Badyk; defence, G. Murray, A. Shoquist; forwards, S. Taylor, N. Hawkins, C. Lavery, W. Wilson, F. Ayres, J. Davenport, H. Wyenerley, A. Kunkel, D. Grant.

Prolites: Goal, T. Killen; defence, J. Kinney, W. Salt, B. Miller; forwards, S. Waldenbreg, B. McIvor, G. McIvor, Lawrence, F. Spencer, G. Duffield, A. Hallett.

SUMMARY

First period: 1—Lloydminster, Kinney (Lawrence), 1:00; 2—Lloydminster (Duffield), 13:55; 3—Saskatoon, Kunkel, (Murray) 20:06.

Second period: 4—Lloydminster, Spencer, (Kinney), 13:30; 5—Lloydminster, (Kinney), 18:49; 6—Saskatoon, Lavery, 1:55. Penalties: Lloydminster, Geo. McIvor 6:05; Shoquist 7:14; Murray 12:31.

Third period: No score. Penalties: Lloydminster, Geo McIvor, 13:30. Saskatoon, Murray, 19:25.

Drillon Safe But Scramble Results For Lower Berths

MONTREAL, Dec. 28. — Though nobody's crowding Gordie Drillon seriously, there's plenty of scrambling for the spots just below the young Toronto Maple Leaf in the National Hockey League scoring standing. This week, there are more leads on his heels.

Official league statistics released last night put Harvey Jackson and Sylvanus Apps three points behind Drillon, the leader all season. With them in the second bracket is Cecil Dillon of New York Rangers. The trio have 17 points, against Drillon's nine goals and 11 assists.

Top men in actual goals are Sweeney Schriner of New York Americans and George Mantha of Montreal Canadiens, with 10 apiece. The speedy habitant piled up his total before he was knocked out with an injury two weeks ago, and he's stayed at the top even though he's been on the bench that fortnight.

Another Canadien, Johnny Gagnon, leads the circuit in assists. The black cat has helped out on 12 goals for a point total of 16, just one behind the leading four. Gagnon in second place with Dillon this time last week, but Jackson and Apps moved out in front of him.

So far, no one is challenging Allen Shields of Maroons for the penalty aggregate. He has a score of 43 minutes on the penalty bench, six more than his team-mate Baldy Northcott.

Dominions Must Clean Up On Elkmen Here Thursday

LOCAL hockey fans will be served one of the lastiest dishes of the current season Thursday night at the Arena, when Olds' stampeding Elks invade Dominions' home territory in a scheduled Big Six fixture.

Dominions, with their hold on second place slipping as Drumheller Miners press closer and closer, are beginning to get desperate, and will be out to trim the Olds squad. But Elks have been taking a fiendish delight in knocking over the top place duds and are now entrenched in fourth place and gunning for third place honors.

Olds handed the motormen a 4-1 lacing the other night at Olds and feel quite confident of repeating on their rival's home ice, while Dominions haven't exactly forgotten the defeat either and will trot out their very strongest club in an effort to tame the anllered crew.

Argonaut Star Leaves Hospital

TORONTO, Dec. 28.—Annis Stukus, Toronto Argonaut football player, in hospital with a back injury since Dec. 4, will be allowed to go home today, his physician announced Monday.

Stukus will be confined to his home for another two weeks before the spinal injury is considered sufficiently cured to permit normal movements. The Argo star was injured in the game against Sarnia in which Argos won the Eastern Canada title.

Saskatoon Quakers Cop Second Place

SASKATOON, Dec. 28. — Saskatoon Quakers moved back into undisputed possession of second place in the Northern Saskatchewan Hockey League standings with a 1-0 victory over the Flin Flon Bombers here Monday.

Largest attendance at an amateur game since the new arena opened, 3,278 fans watched Mel Neilsen score the only goal of the hard fought battle in the second period on a pass from Eddie O'Keefe.

NORMIE SMITH MAY GET TRIP TO MINOR LOOP

DETROIT, Dec. 28—Manager Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings decided Monday night to keep goalie Norm Smith on the job after a specialist had pronounced the net-minder's eyes in good condition.

Adams, trying to shake the Wings out of their slump, had been considering a "vacation" in the minors for Goalie Smith but now will start him against Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night.

"If Smith is off form" Adams qualified, "I'll give him a rest and bring up Alfie Moore from Pittsburgh for Sunday's game with Boston."

Adams said Ebbie Goodfellow, star defence man who broke his wrist several weeks ago, will be ready for action against the Hawks.

LIONS BOUNCE BUCKAROOS, 3-2

VANCOUVER, Dec. 28—Vancouver Lions climbed back into top spot in the Pacific Coast Hockey League standings last night with a 3-2 overtime victory over Portland Buckaroos.

The win put Lions a point in front of Seattle Seahawks.

Max Sutherland opened the scoring with little more than a minute of the second period left. He skirted the Vancouver defence, crashed in on Goalie Percy Jackson and whipped his shot into the net.

Lulu Lennon scored Lions tieing marker midway through the third while Bucs were shorthanded through a penalty to Norm Pridham.

On a faceoff in Portland area Tip O'Neill batted the puck to Red Conn who passed it on to Lennon packed just outside the Portland goal crease for an easy shot.

Lude Palm engineered the play that Mory Rimstad scored on to give Lions the win after five minutes of overtime. Two minutes later Lennon breezed through the Buck defence and added Lions third goal.

Ralph Blyth took Sutherland's assist for the last goal with just under a minute and a half of the extra session remaining.

Four Youths Hurt In Car Accident

INNISFAIL, Dec. 28.—Returning from a hockey match at Olds and a dance at Bowden late Saturday night, four Innisfail youths had a very bad car accident. Reported to be travelling at a high speed, the car failed to make the corner coming from Bowden onto the highway, and crashed into the ditch. Glen and Norman Bauman suffered minor injuries while Jack Metcalf received a broken nose and Neilman Anderson had his jaw bone broken in several places. The car was badly damaged. Anderson was operated on Monday morning and is reported progressing.

ARMY BROGANS WILT JAPANESE RESERVE UNITS

Many Called To Colors After 10 Years In Civil Life

TIENTSIN, Dec. 28.—The Japanese soldiers arriving at Tangku from Japan during the early autumn were older men, obviously belonging to the second or third reserves.

They were from offices, off the farms, fresh from civilian life and the requisite short training periods. All had participated perhaps 10 years or so ago in Japan's compulsory military education.

Their rifles still had the varnish on them, their uniforms and equipment were new, and they were having trouble with their feet.

The Japanese peasant does not wear shoes. He wears geta, a slab of board with cloth underneath and a strap which the wearer slips between the big toe and its neighbor. The shoes were hurting these reservists and many had discarded them temporarily, seeking brie' respites before putting the shoes back on again.

CAMPS NOT SO TIDY

The Japanese, enjoying a reputation for personal cleanliness, are not so neat about their surroundings. I noticed in trips through North China that the places where Japanese troops were gathered were not as clean as, for instance, British or American troops would have kept them.

The Japanese do not have the "policing" details which in other armies are so meticulous about even scraps of paper. Fruit remnants, bits of food, dirty clothing, refuse of all kinds were in evidence around railroad stations, outposts and buildings occupied by Japanese soldiers. The food would not remain long if stray dogs, those perpetually half-starved Chinese "wonks," were permitted nearby.

The pay of a Japanese private is less than for an American dough-boy. It is $3 a month. His food allowance is 30 American cents a day. The salary scale for officers is low by comparison with other armies. A captain on war duty receives approximately $125 a month. A lieutenant-general commanding a division receives $240, but for officers there are food and other allowances which bring up their salary a bit.

Seed Fair Is Culminated By Fine Banquet

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Dec. 28.—With an increased number of exhibits and mostly of a superior quality to last year, the annual district Seed Fair, which was held in the banquet hall of the Donald Hall Thursday and Friday, was an outstanding success. Winners in the various classes were well distributed, with Wembley district leading.

Judging was in the capable hands of E. J. Buckingham of the provincial field crops department, Lofthouse of the provincial seed branch division, and G. S. Black, district agriculturist. W. M. Pringle, grain inspector of the Alberta Pool Elevator Grain Company, Calgary, was present and assisted the judges.

Following the one day fair, a banquet was served judges, exhibitors and their friends.

Two championship trophy cups occupied a prominent place in the display. One was the Canadian Bank of Commerce trophy for provincial competition, which will be awarded at Lethbridge to the winner of the sweepstakes prize. The other was the handsome trophy won by Albert Alloop and Lloyd Rigby of Wembley, at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto.

November, 1928, was the warmest 11th month recorded in London for 15 years, although in some parts of southern England it nearly won another record for wetness.

Samia Getting The Works

Bringing the first taste of winter to residents in the Sarnia, Ont., district, a 30-inch snowfall buried the entire district under a blanket of white. The young chap above doesn't seem the least bit worried about his automobile which is covered, almost out of sight, by snow. The snowstorm was said by old timers to be the worst since 1913, when a score of lake freighters foundered.

Belated Holiday

By ELINORE COWAN STONE

CAST OF CHARACTERS

LINDA BENTON, heroine, daughter of a famous singer.

CAPT. BARRYMORE TRENT, hero, fly "Ace Overall."

MIRANDA TRENT, Barrymore's grandmother; a "strong woman."

Yesterday: Barrymore takes Linda in his arms. Their romance has begun, but Linda could not know how soon it was to be tested.

CHAPTER IV

EXCEPT for the light bandage around Captain Trent's left wrist, everything at the breakfast table next morning seemed much as usual.

From time to time, Barry, as usual, enlivened the meal with bursts of song, in spite of his grandmother's somewhat perfunctory remonstrances. His repertoire consisted mainly of spirited sea-going ditties, whole lines of which he hummed because he regretfully professed to have forgotten the words.

When Linda began in her warm, gentle voice, "I can't tell you, Mrs. Trent, how sorry I am about your jar," the old lady cut her off with a gracious gesture.

"Don't give it another thought, my dear Miss Benton," she commanded. "My grandson assures me it was entirely his fault. Since his early childhood he has been forbidden to approach that cabinet . . . just," she added dryly, as Barry greeted the arrival of fresh toast with a wholehearted round of melody, "since childhood he has been forbidden to sing at mealtime . . . I'm sure I can't imagine, Barry, what Miss Benton must think of you."

Linda, who knew that the old lady did not care in the least what she thought, smiled faintly. In spite of old Miranda's assumption of disapproval, it was so obvious that she was enjoying herself immensely . . . This Linda gathered, was all as a Trent male should be—high-spirited, irrepressible, devastating—"a sweetheart in every port," for instance.

And of course, if she guessed anything about last night, that it just what she thinks I am, Linda thought wryly, just another sweetheart in another port . . . And after all, how could she be sure she wasn't? . . . Was Barry ever entirely serious?

"I'm sure I hope Miss Benton won't believe I'm as black as you paint me, Duchess," he said now with mock solicitude, his eyes seeking Linda's in a twinkle of amusement. "She must be a very well-brought-up young woman, herself, or you wouldn't think so highly of her opinion."

He took up the morning paper and opened it.

In a moment he said so sharply that his grandmother looked up startled from her mail. "I warned him—the blithering idiot! Well, he's down."

"Just who is down—and where?" asked Mrs. Trent calmly.

"Old Rust. And the devil of it is that no one seems to know just where." Barry was reading on rapidly. "The pilot of the big plane carrying the supplies lost him in the fog and turned back . . . Last radio signals from somewhere over Nicaragua early this morning . . . I told him that if he cracked in that jungle he had as much chance of being picked up as a needle in a haystack. But he wouldn't listen to me."

"And when," asked his grandmother dryly, "have you begun listening to good advice?"

But Barry was reading on, his laughing mouth a straight line. . . . He was serious enough now, Linda thought.

When old Miranda rose from the table, she said, "Those parcels must really get off this morning, Miss Benton. Take George and the car. I shall not need you until after lunch. And no doubt you have some errands of your own to do."

Barry did not follow them from the dining room. He hardly seemed to know that they were going.

Linda did have some errands of her own; and it was an ideal day for Christmas shopping—clear and cold, with a crisp fall of snow that sparkled like diamonds on the over-arching trees along the avenue, and crunched delightfully under foot.

Everywhere people were going about their errands with shining faces. Already some of the doors and windows showed holiday wreathes. In the church next to the Court House a choir of children was rehearsing Christmas carols, their high young voices rising shrill and sweet on the frosty air—"Noel! Noel!" Noel! Noel! Born is the King of Israel!"

Linda, waiting at the crossing for the traffic, did not realize that she was singing with them, softly but clearly, until a motor-cycle cop, a dark little man who was standing beside her turned to smile at her, a gaming smile that crinkled his face absurdly.

"Bravo!" He spoke to her with a faint twist of affection that was not quite an accent. "Excuse me, Miss Benton, but that is a voice to pack 'em in the aisles."

Linda frowned faintly. She did not remember ever having seen the man before.

"Oh, no, you do not know me," he went on with his funny pucker-ed smile. "But I heard you sing once before. It was in a hotel in New York—for charity . . . and I have never forgotten you. Such freshness — such purity — such power—and you standing there so straight and young, like something out of a story book . . . It was the kind of singing one does not forget."

Linda remembered now. That was the one occasion when her aunt had allowed her to sing before a public audience.

The little man's eyes were so wistful and friendly standing there that she smiled back at him. After all, it was Christmas eve.

"Thank you," she said. "When you love to sing, it is nice to know that someone has liked to listen—and remembers. You were kind to tell me."

Linda made her purchases at the town's little gift shop—the knitting bag for Mrs. Trent, some trifles for the servants, and a book for Barry.

She was paying for the book when two elderly women advanced upon her. She recognized one of them as Miss Lydia Chatham who came to see old Miranda sometimes—always bursting with news . . . Miss Lydia was a plump, pasty woman, with a nose that always looked cold, and a pale, sharp eyes.

"Ah, just a minute, Miss Benton," she began now. "I hear that Captain Trent is at home for the holidays."

"Why, yes," Linda answered. "He came last week."

"Isn't that just like Miranda Trent!" Miss Chatham turned to her companion. "Keeping him to herself all this while. I heard the other day—" she lowered her voice.

One of a group of smart looking younger women gathered at the book table turned to stare at Linda. As Linda picked up her bundles, she heard the woman ask in a careless, haughty drawl, "Who might the little dresden shepherdess be?"

"His grandmother's maid, I suppose," said her companion negligently. "Did you see her blush? Well, Barry always did have a way with the lower class. . . . By the way Rita, did you know Barry was to be here?"

"Naturally," murmured the one called "Rita." She was tall and lithe, with a warmth of copper-colored hair, a full red mouth in a pale, too-smooth face. Her smoky lashed sultry eyes which swept Linda covertly from head to foot.

"I wondered why you got home ahead of schedule," said the other, and laughed significantly.

Linda fled with the burning cheeks . . . So Barry had a way with the lower classes!

At lunch that day Mrs. Trent observed, her eyes trailing curiously over her grandson's face, "I hear that Rita Blanchard's back."

"Our dear Miss Lydia is still faithful, I see—and busy as ever," Barry replied lightly. "And where had Rita been?"

"Here and there. No grass has grown under her feet. I do assure you, since her divorce was granted."

Barry's eyes danced wickedly over his grandmother's face; and Linda sensed undercurrents that she did not understand. She began to understand later in the day when she found old Miranda at the telephone.

"Of course, my dear Rita," she was saying, "I will tell the car when you called . . . Ah, you must mean Miss Benton. . . . Indeed? But she has been with me for some time . . . Yes, very charming to look at, is she not? We both—the captain and I—" the old lady's face broke into what in any one else would have been a grin of gamin malice—"find it very pleasant to have such youth and freshness about the house."

Rita Blanchard, Linda reflected, must be at least 30.

But what, she thought, has Mrs. Trent against this Mrs. Blanchard that she's ready to use even me as a weapon against her?

Viceroy

Premier Mussolini has provided Ethiopia with a royal governor to succeed militant General Rudolfo Graziani. The viceroy of Italy's biggest colony is Prince Amadeo Umberto, above, of Aosta Savoy, general of the air corps and one of the men who aided in the conquest of Haile Selassie's land.

Rain At Coast Raises Havoc In Train Dispatching

VANCOUVER, Dec. 28.—Railway and wire communication was interrupted today as a downpour of rain fell at the coast, ice formed on wires through the Fraser Valley, and snow and water harassed the interior of British Columbia.

Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train dispatchers said their scheduled arrivals from eastern Canada were held up in the vicinity of North Bend, end of the first division out of Vancouver.

Canadian National and Canadian Pacific telegraph wire chiefs said at 9 a.m. (P.S.T.), they were just lining up one or two wires, "enough to keep our trains on the road." An ice-storm at Matsqui in the Fraser Valley last night left Canadian National wires to the east "in very bad shape." The Canadian Pacific Telegraph had "a couple of wires only" after trouble in the Kettle Valley through the southern interior, and at Coquihalla Pass, near Hope, B.C.

Henson and R. Mumford.

In the evening the parents enjoyed a dance. Arrangements were in charge of C. W. Boyle, Harry Swanson, Bob Boyiman and J. W. Hicks.

Saskatchewan Bluebeard Acts Further Probed

VERSAILLES, France, Dec. 28.—After examining voluminous correspondence seized in the villa of Eugene Weidmann, German immigrant deported from Saskatchewan, police said today they might send an agent across the Atlantic to check on possible connections of the "murder-for-profit" syndicate.

Nearly 500 letters were found in the villa, many written in English and coming from addresses in Canada and the United States. Police said they knew little between Weidmann—confessed killer of six, including the Brooklyn dancer, Jean De Koven, and persons who appeared to be members of his band.

A majority, however, were from women in various countries with whom Weidmann got in contact through advertisements.

Submarine Hinted As Soviet Scheme To Traverse Pole

MOSCOW, Dec. 28.—Soviet authorities hinted Monday a submarine expedition to the North Pole was being considered as the next step toward establishing regular airplane service from Russia over the pole to North America.

The cruise of exploration under the Arctic ice was suggested recently in the official newspaper of the Commissariat of the machine building industry in much the same manner as the Soviet flight to the pole first was suggested early this year.

Publication of the article in the official journal was taken by some foreigners as an indication a submarine already may be under construction for the adventure.

WATCHING WILKINS

Without indicating Russia planned a similar expedition, Professor N. N. Zubodf, an authority on the Arctic, Monday said the Soviet Union would watch closely the new submarine expedition under the polar ice which Sir Hubert Wilkins, Australian explorer, was reported planning.

Sir Hubert has been searching the Arctic by plane for Sigismund Levanevsky and five other missing Russian fliers. Soviet authorities said Wilkins' attempted voyage under the ice in the submarine Nautilus in 1931 failed because of inadequate preparation.

The article in the organ of the machine building industry said the Soviet was scientifically and technically "equipped to solve the problem of under-ice polar exploration."

"The use of submarines in Polar exploration," the article said, "together with planes and icebreakers will speed the final conquest of the Arctic. The submarine opens new horizons for scientific research in the most distant and least known parts of the Polar region.

"The submarine is fated to play a special part in putting into practical operation the air-line from the U.S.S.R. to the United States via the Pole."

The analysis said submarines could carry men and equipment for establishment of landing fields in the central polar basin, as well as go to the help of planes forced down along the route.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—Vilhjalmur Stefansson said Sir Hubert Wilkins hoped to make an Arctic submarine expedition possibly late in 1938. It would not be a trip to the Pole, Stefansson said, but a search for a link between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans under the Arctic ice.

ANGLICAN CHURCH GROWTH OUTLINED IN LARGE VOLUME

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 28—In 1787 Chas. Inglis was consecrated bishop of Nova Scotia, giving the Anglican church its first colonial bishopric. Today there are 248 overseas dioceses of the Communion, including the United States.

That expansion is cited in the 1938 edition of the official year book of the Church of England as a proud achievement, symbolizing the analogous march of the church with the British empire.

Described as the "blue book of the church," the empire number sets forth in 969 pages a fund of information on the life and work of the Anglican Communion.

"There has been a development in the church analogous to all that the Statute of Westminster represents in the life of the British commonwealth," writes Canon J. McLeod, secretary of the Missionary Council of the Church Assembly.

Tribute is paid by Canon McLeod to the heroic pioneers who penetrated continent after continent, undaunted by cruel casualties, undeterred by distances and language difficulties. Despite these obstacles the church had triumphed and today the Bible Society circulates the Bible in 150 languages and portions of it in 842 more.

London Press Backs Britain, U.S. Co-Operation

LONDON, Dec. 28 — London's daily morning papers resumed publication today after a long Christmas holiday with virtually unanimous leading editorials endorsing a policy of parallel procedure by Great Britain and the United States in the Far East and elsewhere.

The statements constituted an enthusiastic response to a New York Times editorial calling upon the two democracies to move together to halt "international banditry."

Eight Killed In Flaming Train

TOKYO, Dec. 28.—Reports from the northern city of Moji to the newspaper Asahi today said eight persons were burned to death and 24 injured when fire roared through one carriage of a speeding train. Flames swept the third class coach, tight packed with passengers, but the engineer failed to stop for some time.

600 Seamen In Strike Against Fine On Sailors

ROUEN, France, Dec. 28.—More than 600 seamen from 30 vessels struck here last night in protest against a collective fine levied by maritime authorities upon the striking 12-man crew of the freighter Cevennes. Sailors sent from Le Havre to replace the Cevennes' crew joined the strikers, who petitioned maritime authorities to have the fine revoked.

TRAPPER FINDS SENSE OF TIME FEW DAYS OUT

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Dec. 28—George Urquhart, bush-dwelling recluse who operates a trap-line and farm 14 miles south of here, arrived in town Christmas day with a sleigh load of Christmas trees. Urquhart said he had no calendar but kept track of the days with pencil marks in his cabin.

BURIED SILVER DIMLY TRACED

LOCKHART, Tex., Dec. 28 — Deep in the sandhills in the Southeastern part of Caldwell county, Tex., only a few miles from where oil field "roughnecks" climb steel derricks and search for liquid gold, lies the crumbling shaft and ore-therbeaten furnace-smelter of an old silver mine. The old furnace, including the pot, is constructed of native stone and is said to be a masterpiece of masonry.

Close by these ruins in a hidden recess there is said to be buried a fortune in silver bars. Many tales are told of those who spent their lives protecting or searching for the riches. The most likely is one told by Harvey L. King, Caldwell county farmer.

STARTED WITH MURDER

The tale concerns King's uncle, the late A. S. Lowry, former Texas Ranger in the border country.

"In 1875 a Mexican boy was killed and the murderer escaped across the Rio Grande into Old Mexico," King related. "The dead boy's father came to my uncle and told him that he would make him a rich man if he would capture the felon.

"My uncle thought that the old man's talk was merely a father's promise in order to gain vengeance on the slayer of his son. However, a few weeks later the murderer was lured across the river to a Deisy Saiz (Sept. 16) celebration and captured.

"After the murderer had been tried and sentenced to life in the penitentiary, the old man came to my uncle and presented him with a crudely drawn map of the old mine with an 'X' marking the spot where the treasure was supposed to be buried."

TWO SHAFTS SUNK

The old man is said to have told Ranger Lowry that in 1825 as a boy of 14 he was with a company of Mexican men and women who dug the shaft and erected the smelter now in ruins. The shaft, the remains of which may now be seen, showed very little signs of silver, but there was a trace of copper.

This shaft was abandoned and the party sank another on a nearby hilltop where a rich vein of silver was found.

"The old man told my uncle that Indians raided the Mexican camp after 43 bars of silver had been mined, smelted and molded," King said. "Only Mexicans, he said, they would be robbed, hid the bars in the hilltop shaft and covered it up. That night the raiding Indians killed all of the party except the man who gave the map to my uncle."

King said his uncle later offered to give him half interest if he would help him find the treasure. The uncle died before a search was started.

HORACE STOVIN TRIES MENTAL CARD SENDING

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—Horace Stovin, supervisor of station relations for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Monday explained why his friends received no Christmas cards from him and at the same time wished them a Happy New Year.

In the classified ads of Monday's Ottawa newspapers appeared this:

"My Christmas card was sent by mental telepathy. If the experiment was successful another contribution has been made to something. If you didn't receive it, here's wishing you the best in 1938. Horace Stovin, C.B.C., Ottawa."

Stovin bought a large number of papers, marked them and sent them to his friends last night.

Senator Asks Islands Back

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Senator Lewis (D.-Ill.) said Monday Japan should "return" to the United States islands "in the track of the ocean leading to Japan" as a "further gesture of friendship" after its apology for sinking the American gunboat Panay. Lewis did not name the islands.

Wheat, rye, oats and rice—America's most important crop, excepting corn—all came from Europe.

BOXER TREATY FAILS TO KEEP TRAINS MOVING

Rail Wreck Is Evidence Isolation Of Peking Easily Possible

TIENTSIN, Dec. 28. — A troop train coming down from Manchukuo was wrecked midway between Tientsin and Tangku and 50 Japanese soldiers, riding in the car next to the engine, were killed.

Officers believed the Chinese had derailed the train and would attack the survivors. They ordered their men to deploy in the fields alongside the track.

A dozen foreigners seeking to get to Tientsin from Tangku, which is the ocean port terminus for the line between Peking and the sea, had been permitted to ride on the train. While deploying his men the Japanese officer in charge, speaking English, had told the foreigners to leave the scene hurriedly because he expected an attack.

There was great confusion. Soldiers milled about, there were sounds of escaping steam, the crackling of fire as it spread backward along the train, the cries of those pinned in the wreckage.

MOTHER LOST SON

A Russian mother could not find one of her sons. Frantic, she appealed to other foreigners. A. P. Tucker, a China representative of a tobacco company, said he would investigate. At first the Japanese officer blocked the way, but he was told about the boy.

"Go back, but hurry," he said.

Tucker found the boy, crushed to death.

The expected attack did not occur, but the foreigners, loaded down with luggage, had to face a 13-mile walk back to Tangku. The Japanese would not permit them to go farther toward Tientsin because they thought marauders were in the neighborhood.

An American woman, struggling along the railroad ties with a heavy suitcase banging against her knees, suddenly put down the bag and cried:

"They can't do this!"

"What do you mean, they can't do this!" asked Tucker, arms full and perspiring.

"They can't wreck this train. The Boxer treaty says the railroad must be kept open between Peiping and the sea."

"Lady," said Tucker, lapsing for a moment into his boyhood Virginia talk, "they've already done it."

IL DUCE INFERS U. S. IS HELPLESS AGAINST JAPAN

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 28. — The United States "liquidated" the Panay incident, Premier Mussolini's newspaper asserted Monday, because "really nothing can be done against Japan."

An editorial in the newspaper Popolo d'Italia gave official Italian views of the Panay settlement and poked jibes at opponents of the Fascist regime. It said it is against national referendum in the United States before a declaration of war.

"After the Panay incident" said the article discussing the United States gunboat sunk in China by Japanese bombers, "there was a wave of bellicose instincts in the United States which now is calming down in view of, and considering, that really nothing can be done against Japan."

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Dec. 28—With a crowd of close to three thousand fans looking on, Nelson Maple Leafs trimmed Lethbridge Maple Leafs 3-1 here last night in a Kootenay Hockey League contest which was enlivened by several fights which necessitated the calling in of police to restore order.

Johnny Sullivan, Albert Suerby and Jack Kilpatrick notched the Nelson goals and Bob Kirkpatrick got the single Lethbridge counter.
